I-J Becomes First Newspaper To Fully Use 'Water Base Ink'

NO MORE PRESSROOM 'SMOG' — California Ink Co. researcher Donald H. Cook of Terra Linda watches Independent-Journal press turn with new water-based ink, put into full use here today for first time on any newspaper. The new ink is hailed by pressroom employees as ending the "smog" of ink particles thrown off by other printing inks. The reader will find it also results in sharper printing, much less smudge. (Independent-Journal photo)

Process Hailed As Just About Ending Ruboff

The Independent-Journal today became the first newspaper in the United States, and probably in the world, to use new "water base ink" for its full production.

"It just about ends rub-off," was how I-J pressroom foreman Melvin (Buzz) Davis summarized his idea of the biggest point about the new ink for the average reader.

"Your newspaper will be printed sharper and clearer," said John C. Lyman of Ross, president of Berkeley's California Ink Co. which has developed the ink.

EASIER TO READ

Cal-Ink researcher Donald H. Cook of Terra Linda added: "Type will be easier to read. Illustrations have a wider range of tone values because of sharpness of the half-tone dots. There will be less tendency for heavy type or pictures to show through the sheet. Ink mist is licked."

Publisher Roy A. Brown of the I-J said that not only does the new ink represent the culmination of three years of laboratory development, modifications and test after test, but the I-J itself has been conducting tests for more than a year.

NEW PRODUCT

At times one of the I-J's high-speed Goss presses has been loaded with the new ink. But from today, all six units carry the revolutionary new product.

Lyman said the project had "all the elements of an ideal research task" with problems of water basis, as against the conventional smudgy oil basis, clearly defined. Work has been carried on by many ink companies for many years, and some have attained partial success.

A rival production went into partial use last month in the plant of the Evening Chronicle of Allentown, Pa.—but unlike the I-J, the Chronicle has to employ a big brush which constantly sweeps the revolving inked cylinders to clean newsprint "fuzz" off the half-tones from which photos are reproduced.

One of the headaches about development of water base ink, it seems, is that it has a mark-

Katanga President Held For Treason

COQUILHATVILLE, The Congo (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu's government says it will prosecute Katanga President Moise Tshombe for treason and will try to bring his breakaway province back under central government control.

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko said Tshombe would be tried for a series of crimes, including the assassination of former Prince Patrice Lumumba. Kasavubu himself had ordered Lumumba handed over to Tshombe to prevent his escaping custody and regaining control of the government.

Tshombe was arrested April 26 after he walked out of a meeting of Congolese leaders called to try to work out a new form of government for the strife-torn nation. Tshombe accused Kasavubu of "selling out" to the United Nations.

Bomboko said the Leopoldville government would use force if necessary to restore its control over Katanga, the Congo's rich mining province which seceded from the republic soon after independence last summer.

Bomboko declined to specify just how Kasavubu's government would go about taking over Katanga. He said all Belgian advisers would be expelled from the province.

Bomboko charged Tshome with:

1. Assassination of political prisoners and massacre of the Baluba tribesmen in Katanga. Bomboko said Lumumba should have been given a trial, although the Leopoldville government made no move to do this during the four months it held the deposed premier in custody.

2. Rebellion against Kasavubu's government under direction of foreign elements.

3. Theft of planes, ammunition and monetary reserves belonging to the Leopoldville government. This referred to goods confiscated by Tshombe when he declared Katanga independent last July.

Terra Linda Bonds Vote Is Tomorrow

Terra Lindans will vote tomorrow on a $233,000 bond issue to develop recreation facilities.

The election was called by the Terra Linda Recreational District for last January, then postponed because of the election on annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael. Following defeat of annexation, it was re-scheduled for tomorrow.

SWIMMING POOL

The campaign has been marked by none of the bitterness which attended an election on a $350,000 bond issue for the same purpose in September, 1959. That vote, called by the Terra Linda Community Services District, resulted in defeat when the bonds failed by 66 votes to muster the necessary two-thirds majority. The recreation district was organized last year, and the community services district divested itself of its recreation responsibilities, turning over park lands to the recreational district.

The recreational district is now operating the Terra Linda Community Center building under a lease-purchase option. Funds to buy the building are included in the proposed bond issue, along with money to develop Del Ganado Park and landscape Oleander Park.

NO BITTERNESS

Biggest outlay is planned at 2.6-acre Del Ganado Park, where as swimming pool, children's playground, multi-use cement deck for dancers and concerts, and landscaping are proposed. These total $109,895.

At 2.8-acre Oleander Park, it is proposed to spend $10,000 on landscaping.

Purchase of the community center building is figured at $40,000. In addition, $32,500 would be spent for renovating the building and adding a large meeting hall.

Polling places will be the Terra Linda Firehouse and community center. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Plan For Redistricting Held Unconstitutional

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—It would be unconstitutional for the state to add Marin County to San Francisco City and County for the purpose of creating three congressional districts, the legislative counsel held today in an opinion handed to Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

The proposal, as suggested by supporters of Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), had been to take Marin County out of Miller's First Congressional District and add to the Marina-Russian Hill portion of San Francisco to make a third congressional district for San Francisco.

The opinion of counsel Ralph N. Kleps' office is that the legislature "would probably . . . violate the Constitution in joining an Assembly district from San Francisco to Marin County in forming a congressinonal district."

The opinion is based on the supposition that San Francisco's population entitles it to less than two congressmen. Figures compiled by the Assembly interim committee on elections and reaapportionment indicate San Francisco is entitled to 1.9 congressmen.

The opinion cited a provision in the constitution which requires a county to be cut up into districts according to population proportionate to other counties in the state and nation.

After a county is so divided the constitution provides, if

Given Hero's Welcome At Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's first spaceman, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., reaped a hero's reward today—a kiss, a medal, and the frenzied acclaim of an adoring multitude.

He collected the kiss from his wife, Louise, who was reunited with him this morning after weeks of enforced separation.

He received the medal from President John F. Kennedy in the rose garden of the White House.

He harvested the cheers of his countrymen during a slow ride from the White House down Pennsylvania and Constitution Avenues — the traditional route of American heroes—from the White House to the Capitol.

Scores had gathered at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland to welcome him back to America from Grand Bahama Island.

Hundreds were at the White House to see Kennedy present him with the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

NEW HERO

According to Deputy Police Chief William J. Liverman, "at least 250,000" Americans, worshipping a new kind of hero, cheered him on the long ride from the White House to the capitol.

The 37-year-old Navy commander was being acclaimed for making America's first space flight, a 15-minute rocket trip 115 miles up and 302 miles down the Atlantic missile range from Cape Canaveral, Fla., last Friday.

He had flown here from Grand Bahama Island this morning. From the moment he walked down the ramp at 9:45 a.m. he was caught up in a whirl of activity.

Said Shepard: "I thought last Friday was a thrilling day, but this surpasses it."

WAVES TO CROWDS

He and his wife Louise, with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson sitting between them, perched on the back seat of an open convertible and waved at the cheering crowds.

The cheers never waned until they arrived at the Capitol for a jubilant reception by Congress in the old Supreme Court chamber.

Shepard, a lithe figure of a man in a dark green suit with almost invisible brown check, took the applause modestly. From the first to last he insisted that Friday's feat was the work not of one man but of the hundreds and thousands of men and women in the Mercury man-in-space program.

HIS MEDAL—This is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Distinguished Service Medal, which was presented today in Washington to Navy Cmdr. Alan Shephard. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Shepard had been at Andrews to meet the astronaut on his arrival after a flight of two hours and 11 minutes from Grand Bahama. That was when he collected his kiss.

Twenty-three minutes later, he was on the south lawn of the White House shaking hands with President and Mrs. Kennedy, with Johnson, and other dignitaries gathered to do him honor.

Kennedy, bareheaded under a hazy sun and perspiring in the heat of a muggy May day, presented Shepard the medal.

Shepard, grinning broadly a moment earlier, stood ram-rod stiff as Kennedy read the citation, and accompanied it with his warm personal congratulations.

In his welcoming remarks just before he decorated Shepard Kennedy said "I think they know how proud we are of him and what great satisfaction his accomplishment has given us. . ."

Ward Austin Named Marin Citizen Of '61

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Dr. Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president who will retire on June 30, yesterday was named Marin County's "outstanding citizen of 1961."

Conferring the honor, which included a plaque and a watch, was the Marin Real Estate Board.

The 500 guests at the College Founders' Day ceremonies yesterday were also told that the school's science building will henceforth be known as the Ward H. Austin Science Building.

"We will pass this resolution at our next board meeting," said Rupert E. Kempf, clerk of the board of trustees.

Presenting Austin with the plaque was Stephen Kramer, Mill Valley realtor who was chairman of the Marin County Real Estate Board's outstanding citizens committee. Ray Eckert, president of the real estate board, presented Austin with the watch.

"The purpose of this award is to honor annually men and women whose endeavors have been of outstanding service to our county," Kramer said. He cited Austin's "vital participation in education and guiding our youth since he became an instructor in engineering in 1927."

Kramer traced Austin's rise to the college presidency, his service as city councilman and mayor of Larkspur and election as a member of the board of freeholders to prepare a char-

ASTRONAUT SAYS TRIP ENCOURAGING

Shepard Uses Word 'We' To Describe Own Feeling About Trip Into Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard said today the flight which made him America's first spaceman will encourage him and his associates to press on with the program of exploration.

"All in all, we were very much pleased with the flight, very much encouraged, and we intend to press ahead with the program," he told his first news conference.

Shepard began his talk to the assembled newsmen by introducing his wife and parents, who were in the audience. He also introduced "my sister Polly," Mrs. Gorman Sherman, who responded with a fighter's over-the-head handshake. Shepard also presented his wife's parents.

SIGNIFICANT THINGS

He said he considers there are several significant things about the flight last Friday from Cape Canaveral.

"We feel very strongly that this particular flight was one that was certainly accomplished in the open," he said. "We had very few secrets about our plans. Launch date was classified, but very few other things were. This was a little annoying at times, but I think we rationalized it by considering that the free society that made possible this flight and Project Mercury, certainly had a right to be informed."

"SPEEDING UP"

He said "the possibility of speeding this up because of other events"—possibly a reference to the Soviet man in space accomplishment — was considered but not all the speed-up was adopted.

Shepard said he was surprised that the lift-off for the flight was as smooth at it was.

"I had expected more noise and more vibration. It was a very pleasant lift-off."

He noted that he actually controlled the vehicle at times. He said that he had controlled the re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

Shepard said he made the remark, "Oh what a beautiful view," after he first took hold of the controls and was able to look through the periscope.

He said he had been pretty well briefed about what to expect. But when he actually looked through the periscope, "I have to admit it took my breath away. It was a beautiful sight.

"What was the worst part of your flight?" a questioner asked.

"I don't think we had any bad moments at all, Shepard replied.

Shepard was requested to ask his fellow astronauts which one of them wanted to take the next flight.

"How about it fellows?" Shepard asked, and all the astronauts raised their hands.

What are you dreaming about next? he was asked.

Shepard said, "As has been pointed out here, our present plans are to continue ahead with Project Mercury."

He said the plan is to achieve orbital flight; beyond that, he continued, isn't the astronauts' responsibility, although they of course have thoughts about it.

Shepard and his wife have been frequent visitors at the Williams home in Sausalito.

"He is very fine and down to earth and has a great sense of humor," said Mrs. Williams today of the newest national hero. She expressed assurance that Shepard will stay that way.

Shepard stayed at the Williams home while awaiting assignment to Pacific duty in World War II. Later, his wife visited there while awaiting her husband's return from overseas.

Robert Williams resigned from the Navy about six years ago and is now in the insurance business in Menlo Park. His father is a public accountant in San Francisco.

SCHOOL FOR CONGRESSMAN

At 76, Rep. Joseph Martin (right) of Massachusetts, has taken up a new task for himself. Using experience gained after 37 years in the House of Representatives, Martin is operating a mobile, informal and voluntary school for freshmen congressman. His course touches on such things as how to get re-elected, to climb the ladder and when it is best to keep silent. With him are two "pupils," Rep. Stanley Tupper (center) (R-Maine) and Rep. EICHMANN TRIAL

Woman Testifies She Escaped Mass Grave

JERUSALEM (AP)—A matronly Jewish woman told the Eichmann trial court today of being shot by men of the Nazi SS elite guard, falling into a mass grave, fighting her way up through bodies for air and surviving.

Mrs. Rifka Yosilevska, a native of Russia who was unable to testify last week because of a mild heart attack, was restrained on the witness stand. But her voice broke when she told of seeing her little daughter shot.

In the Pinsk area in 1942, she said, Jews were rounded up by the hundreds and taken to a burial pit.

HELD SPELLBOUND

Her account of what happened then held the 700 spectators spellbound at the 30th session of the trial of Adolph Eichmann, is charged with being a chief accomplice in the Nazi extermination of six million Jews.

"We were taken, some in a truck and others forced to run behind it," Mrs. Yosilevska said.

Those in the truck, arriving first, were stripped and shot by the time they got to the freshly dug pit. Her father refused to undress, she said, and his clothing was torn from him.

FOUR DEVILS

"There were four devils, SS men, they shot us.

"The children wanted to run. It was hard to hold on to them. We hurried, we were sort of anxious to get it over with. My mother, my grandmother, she was 80 years old and had a baby in her arms, my father, my sister.

"Then it came my turn. The German asked me, 'Who shall I shoot first?' I did not answer. My child cried out and was shot. He aimed at me, holding onto my hair and pulling my head around. I heard a shot. Then he ordered me to watch and there was another shot. Then I fell into the pit but I felt nothing."

Mrs. Yosilevska halted for a moment as though to get her breath.

"I felt a sort of heaviness and thought I was dead. Then I was choking. There were people falling on me. I must be alive, I thought. I could rise. I prayed for another bullet. Then I managed to climb toward the top but I felt bodies pulling at me, pulling me down, down—

"I crawled out of the pit. There were bodies everywhere. I wanted to see the end of the stretch of bodies but I could not see the end. Some were not dead. I called for my little girl. I could not find her."

Rusk Seeking Better NATO Cooperation

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk proposes that his North Atlantic Treaty Organization colleagues bolster their alliance by more cooperation among members and more non-nuclear military forces.

Rusk wants the 15 NATO to increase their consultations with each other—to seek advice from their friends when their specific problems are in an early stage.

He wants NATO to build up its conventional military forces so it can answer a little fire alarm with something besides an all-out nuclear response.

The other ministers already agree with the goals Rusk seeks to attain. They are expected to give formal approval to both proposals during their three-day conference in Norway's picturesque capital.

Agreeing on goals is one thing. Achieving them will be a great dealer harder.

The NATO allies have been talking about increasing consultation for 10 years and doing little about it. No foreign ministry finds it easy to share its worries and doubt even with its closest associates.

High Government Officials No Picnic For Innkeeper

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman innkeeper said today a drenched troop of hikers—including a Supreme Court justice, a senator and a Cabinet member—turned her place into a picnic area without so much as a "by your leave."

"I came in and found them like sardines in my cocktail lounge, sitting on the bar and eating their own food," said the innkeeper, Mrs. John T. Reges.

Mrs. Reges, the wife of the proprietor of the Old Anglers Inn reacted swiftly: "In a loud voice—in German—I told my maitre d,' "I will give you 10 minutes to get these people out of here."

"After they were gone," said Mrs. Reges, "I found out who they were. If they had asked me first, I would have made arrangements, given them a room to dry out in, made them tea. But they didn't ask, they just came in."

The hikers, about 170 strong, were nearing the end of a sodden 16-mile course along the old C & O Canal route from Seneca, Md., to Washington Saturday when they stopped at the inn near the Great Falls of the Potomac. Among them were Justice William O. Douglas, Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

It was the seventh annual jaunt for the hikers. It marked the reunion of nature lovers and conservationists who, in 1954, made the first march on protest against a proposal to build a highway along the historic canal.

Heroic Angle

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—A boy being swept out to sea was saved yesterday by an angler's line.

The quick-thinking angler was fishing from a mole when he saw David Hubzard, 13, being swept away by an offshore current. He expertly cast the float on his line within David's reach. The boy seized the line and hung on until Arthur Shimmans, 38, dived in and pulled him out.

Queen's Visit Success

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth's visit to Italy has been a roaring success, at least so far as the Italians are concerned.

In every part of Italy she has visited, the queen has been greeted with an enthusiasm that rarely—if ever—has been shown to a visiting head of state.

And there has been just as much interest in Prince Philip, who already has been dubbed "Pippo"—the nickname for the Italian derivative of Philip, Filippo.

End Of An Auto?

LONDON (AP)—The Rolls-Royce, limousine of the truly opulent, may be on the way out.

The company that has built plush autos for kings, oil rich sheikhs, millionaires and film stars faced a financial crisis.

The trouble is caused by the recent British government law limiting to 2,000 pounds—$5,600—the income tax deduction for automobiles for company executives.

Lord Kindersley, chairman of Rolls-Royce, has warned the government that his company has been so hard hit by the tax law the firm's car division may have to cease production.

Returning Newsman Tells Of Terror Reign In Havana

(EDITOR'S NOTE: What's the latest word from behind the "palm tree curtain" in Cuba? Richard Valeriani, National Broadcasting Company staffman, arrived in Miami yesterday in a planeload of refugees from Havana. A former Associated Press reporter in Cuba, Valeriani here tells his story.)

By RICHARD VALERIANI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three weeks after the short-lived anti-Castro invasion, fear and repression still rule Cuba.

Out of the chaos which now characterizes the sun-bathed island, only one pattern emerges clearly—the pattern of Communist dictatorship.

The Batista tyranny toppled more than two years ago by Fidel Castro has been replaced by a new tyranny, all the more fearful because of the haphazard manner in which it operates.

Havana today is in the hands of the military. All public buildings are sandbagged. Soldiers, teen-aged Young Rebels, militiamen and militiawomen stand guard around the clock, their weapons slung carelessly about them.

Militiamen frisk all persons entering any public building. Women's handbags are searched minutely, down to tubes of lipstick. Visitors must open cigarette and match packs before entering hotels and other buildings.

How long this will go on is Castro's decision but anybody's guess. It appears that he will maintain the repressive measures instituted after the abortive invasion in order to retain the iron grip he now has on the country.

Castro's police machinery began spreading its reign of terror within a few hours after the announcement of the invasion April 17. Conservative estimates place the total at 50,000 arrested throughout the island, although news from the provinces is scant.

G-2 agents and militiamen, apparently working from prepared lists as well as from tips from government-organized spy committees in every neighborhood, began arresting "unreliables" indiscriminately.

The American press was a special target. Their offices were occupied and looted or both. Almost all the American correspondents were arrested or forced into hiding and refuge. AP staffer Robert Berrellez was arrested the afteroon of the invasion, held for more than two weeks by the G-2 and thtn transferred behind the grim walls of La Cabana prison, greatly overcrowded like the rest of the Cuban prisons.

RICHARD VALERIANI
Pattern of tyranny

Thousands of prisoners were herded into whatever facilities offered themselves—a baseball field and public school in Matanzas, the Sports Palace where Castro held his war crimes trials in Havana, the Blanquita Theater with a capacity of 6,500.

Prisoners later released reported intolerable conditions. They slept on floors or standing up when the makeshift jails were too crowded to lie down. They went without food for the first few days unless they could manage to send out for it.

News of the 29 executions during the three days of the invasion spread panic among the masses of prisoners.

It was intensified by the psychological torture inflicted by Castro guards who fired into the air or threatened to shoot prisoners when they complained.

The wave of arrests seemed to carry with it a license for looting and plundering. Cameras, tape recorders, radios, cars, money, and other valuables disappeared from private homes and offices in the confusion.

Churches offered no haven. Militiamen surrounded them, closed the doors and searched the worshippers inside.

The acting head of the Roman Catholic Church in Cuba, Monsignor Evelio Diaz, and the auxiliary bishop of Havana, Monsignor Eduardo Boza Masvidal, were arrested, held a few days and subsequently released.

The titular head of the church, Cardinal Arteaga, incapacited by failing health, was accepted as a guest by the Argentine Embassy.

Three sources close to the church told me militiamen had entered the cloistered Santa Clara Convent and hauled off any valuables they could find, including nuns' rosaries.

The jailing of priests was common.

The arrests spread even to diplomatic staffs, Cubans leaving the Spanish Embassy were arrested on the spot. Militiamen refused to permit milk and bread deliveries to the Venezuelan and Panamanian embassies. Castro agents broke into and looted apartments occupied by members of the Swiss and German embassies. The British Embassy's information officer was jailed.

The arrests have diminished considerably, and many of the prisoners are being released. But anyone who has ever uttered a doubtful word about the Castro regime walks in fear today.

The mass repression appears to have smashed the anti-Castro underground. Many were nabbed in the roundup. Many others took refuge in Latin-American embassies, which are bulging beyond capacity. The underground is depressed and demoralized—and yet angry.

Some underground members still free told me they were given orders not to move two days before the invasion. Arms were distributed. Activation never came.

Reliable sources estimate that up to 50,000 persons within Cuba were prepared to take up arms against Castro. They now ask each other in frustration, what happened?

Only one bomb has been heard in Havana in the last three weeks. They went off nightly before the invasion.

The victory over the invaders has given the Castro government a fresh impetus, an enthusiasm it has been lacking for months.

Drowning Victim Washes Ashore

The body of a San Leandro housewife who drowned Saturday night when she leaped into the bay from a burning cabin cruiser was found yesterday, washed up on the south end of Angel Island.

Coast Guardsmen were checking the island beaches again today for a second victim of the boat accident.

Two other persons in the boat were pulled from the water by the Coast Guard nearly two hours after they jumped from the burning vessel.

Found on Angel Island beach was the body of Mrs. Irene Winnie Dartt, 43. The coroner's office said she had burns on the forehead, and her clothing was partly burned, but drowning was the cause of death.

Still missing was Dr. Keith Mann, 37, an Oakland dentist. Coast Guard vessels searched all day yesterday, but found only Mrs. Dartt.

Owner-operator Andre Tweedt of Casto Valley was rescued from the water by Coast Guard boats and treated at Harbor Emergency Hospital in San Francisco for burns about the face. Another passenger, Dorothy Grams of San Leandro, also was pulled out of the water. She was under treatment for exposure and burns.

The $7,000 Vicki II, a 25-foot cabin cruiser, went down about 9 p.m. Saturday, about 700 yard southeast of Angel Island.

Tweedt and his three passengers, all old friends, had left Oakland, intending to have dinner in Tiburon. The owner said fire broke out, apparently from gas in the bilge. He attempted to use an extinguisher to quell the flames, but was unsuccessful.

Tweedt said he radioed for help, then staggered to the deck where he found his three companions had already jumped in the water. He threw life rings in, grabbed one himself and jumped. He found Mrs. Grams, but the other two had disappeared.

Coincindentally, Mrs. Grams' son, H. Spencer Grams, 24, was involved in a similar accident nine months ago. He commanded a Sea Scout ketch which capsized in the bay, carrying two Sea Scouts to their death. Grams, like his mother, survived.

Truman Marks 77th Birthday With A Party

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Comedian Jack Benny, who celebrated his 39th birthday several years ago and then forgot about any more, helped Harry S. Truman mark his 77th today at a party attended by 200 "old friends" of the former president.

Telephone calls bringing birthday greetings to Truman from President John F. Kennedy and Chief Justice Earl Warren were also piped over a special line into the grand ballroom of the Hotel Muehlebach.

Others invited to the party were several Democrats who served in the Truman cabinet during his White House tenure. They were John Snyder, former secretary of the treasury; Jesse Donaldson, former postmaster general; Dan Kimball, former secretary of the Navy,

Second Peace Corps Mission Is Revealed

MONTEREY (UPI)—The Peace Corps' second mission apparently will be a 60-person team to a Latin American country.

Tom Mathews, deputy director of public information for the Peace Corps, told the closing session of the annual conference of the World Affairs Council of Northern California at Asilomar yesterday that President John F. Kennedy will announce the second mission this week.

Mathews said the team would be composed of agricultural extension workers, sanitation engineers and social workers but he would not divulge the country to which the team would go. Kennedy earlier had said that the first mission would be sent to Tanganykia, Africa.

"More than two dozen countries have either expressed interest in or asked for a Peace Corps team," Mathews said. He added that requests mostly are for agricultural extension workers or English teachers.

Gen. William H. Draper, undersecretary of the Army under former President Harry S. Truman and a top-level advisor on security and military programs under President Eisenhower, was the other main speaker Sunday.

Draper said over-population is the most serious problem facing Latin America and hinders solution of other problems.

The World Affairs Council named Mortimer Fleishhacker Jr. of San Francisco as its new president. He succeeds Alvin J. Rockwell.

Philip Ray, undersecretary of commerce under former President Eisenhower, told the Council Saturday that capitalism is failing everywhere in Latin America and that our programs for government assistance are inadequate.

Corte Madera Schedules Hearing On Sign Rules

A public hearing on repeal of the town sign ordinance and incorporation of sign regulations into the zoning ordinance will be held at 8 p.m. today by the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

At 8:30 p.m. there will be a public hearing on rezoning of a parcel of land 102 by 285 feet between Casa Buena and Meadowsweet Drives, off Tamalpais Drive, from high density residential to professional and administrative. The request for rezoning was made by the owners, Peter S. and Rose Arrigoni.

An application for design review of a duplex apartment at the northwest corner of Serra and Willow avenues will be made by the James L. Warren Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Space Flight Color Films Valuable

MORE DETAILED

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration over the weekend released a few black and white prints from the periscope and pilot reaction cameras. The color negatives from which they were made were more detailed.

One periscope shot showed the eastern coastline of the United States from the tip of Florida to Cape Hatteras, N.C., from an altitude of 90-100 miles. Several small clouds were visible.

This was taken about three minutes after launch, about the time Shepard called out by radio his now famous quote: "What a beautiful view."

SHOWS PARACHUTE

Another periscope photo showed a small drogue parachute and its container drifting toward the ocean after they jettisoned from the spacecraft about nine minutes after launch. Shepard had shifted the periscope from "low" to "high" magnification for this shot.

Novato Planners Due Power Line Proposal

Novato Planning Commissioners tonight will consider a proposal by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to run a 200,000-volt electric transmission line on steel towers through a portion of the city.

Residents outside the city, in the Indian Valley and Fallon areas, already have protested the move to the county planning commission, which continued its consideration of the proposal to its May 15 meeting.

Tonight PG&E will ask permission to put up towers of a median height of 130 feet and a maximum height of 170 feet through a little more than half mile of Novato. An area for 120 feet under the line must be clear of habitation or buildings.

The proposed line would be within the city limits beginning at a point on a ridge between Raphael Village and South Novato Boulevard anl going west on a line crossing approximately the north edge of the San Jose District school site fronting on San Jose Boulevard extension.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the city hall. Also on the agenda is a request for approval of a tentative map for the first stage of development of the 1,100 acres of land north of the city which Andrew B. Talbot, San Francisco, and his associates intend to annex to the city.

Rail Excursion Success; Both Runs Sold Out

Willis Silverthorn, retired Northwestern Pacific Railroad engineer of Sausalito, showed colored movies on railroading to Reed and Bel Aire school children today following Saturday's highly successful train excursions from Tiburon to San Rafael.

Silverthorn, a member of the railway and locomotive historical society, will explain pictures and use of equipment to the pupils.

Both train runs were sold out last Monday. When Mrs. Beverly Bastian, president of the sponsoring Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society arrived for the 10:30 a.m. run Saturday, she found youngsters "mobbing the train" who didn't have tickets. Railroad authorities said they could take more passengers if Mrs. Bastian approved. She did. Each run took 300 passengers, 50 more than had been scheduled.

Railroad fans followed in cars and met the train at places such as one of the three tunnels and at the trestle on Tiburon highway, waving as the train went over the structure.

In San Rafael, train riders got off while the engine was switched. At this time, youngsters put pennies on the track, something their fathers and grandfathers had done. After the engine had run over the pennies, the youngsters ran to get them as souvenirs of the day.

Midnight Fight Results In Jail

David F. Hill, 101 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield, was charged yesterday with assault, battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness after a midnight fight in Mill Valley.

When sheriff's deputies arrived, Serafini had pinned the 200-pound Hill to the ground, as Dr. and Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Carol J. Hill of San Francisco awaited deputies.

Hub School Trustees To Discuss Teachers

The San Anselmo School District board will consider a school calendar for 1961-62, hire new teachers and hold a ceremony for teachers granted tenure at 8 p.m. today in Isabel Cook School.

Also on the agenda: rules and regulations for non-teaching personnel; financial report; educational policy; program report on the building program.

Health Experts Look At Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Leading health experts are changing their methods of helping the sick. They are gradually recognizing the importance that the nervous system plays in good health.

These experts have noted that defective bone structure interferes with nerves and robs the body of vital nerve energy.

Sometimes a fall, a sudden jar or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of the spine. Nerves often are pinched when one of the 24 bones of the spine is jarred out of line. This can cause almost any type of illness imaginable . . . for the body cannot function properly when the spine is out of line.

The strange part about spinal misalignment is that the person rarely feels any great pain in his back. When ill, however, the smart thing is to look for the cause—and the safe thing is to have your spine checked by a chiropractor. Doctors of Chiropractic are specialists in correcting spinal defects.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C. practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201. (Adv.)

Heart Attack Mars Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. Minnie Beeman, 72, of 30 Latham Street, San Rafael, suffered a heart attack yesterday while she was opening cards and presents for her 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Beeman was with members of her family and friends at her son's home at 139 Tamal Vista Drive, San Rafael, when she suffered the attack. She was in "satisfactory condition" today at San Rafael General Hospital.

She and her husband, Marion, 76, were married in Oklahoma 50 years ago today. She recalled from the hospital today now she and her husband were wed as they stood in a buggy with a horse.

Her husband, a retired employee of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael, was from another county than she and they could not decide in which county to be married. They finally decided to get married in both counties—on the Craig County line.

San Rafael firemen revived Mrs. Beeman by use of an inhalator before she was taken to the hospital.

Hospital attendants said they were going to help Mr. and Mrs. Beeman celebrate their wedding anniversary in the hospital.

there are other people in the county left over, they may be added to another county to form an additional congressional district. But after two districts are formed in San Francisco under the present ratios, there wouldn't be anyone left over to join with Marin.

Bagley declared the opinion, "has shaken up some powerful people who are attempting this gerrymandering gimmick."

If the new reapportionment bill were passed including districts which might be unconstitutionally drawn, Bagley said, a suit could be filed to prevent it going into operation. Such a suit would postpone effective date of the reapportionment and could mean the eight new congressmen to which California is entitled would be elected by the state at large rather than from congressional districts.

Garbage Rate Hike Report Is Planned

City Councilman Clyde McKinney will report to the Fairfax City Council tonight on the garbage rate increase study he has made. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Sarah Wooster Succumbs

Mrs. Sarah Bluxome Wooster, who founded the Office Towel Supply Co. in San Francisco with her sister in 1904, died yesterday at her home at 42 Edgewood Way, San Rafael.

Mrs. Wooster lived in Marin County for 42 years. She and her sister, Miss Carnelia Bluxome of San Rafael, retired from the business in 1946. Mrs. Wooster's husband, Capt. John Wooster, died around the turn of the century before his wife and Miss Bluxome founded the towel supply company.

Mrs. Wooster's father, Capt. Isaac Bluxome, was a California pioneer. He was known as "number 33" in the Citizens' Bank of Safety, more commonly known as the Committee of Vigilance in San Francisco.

Mrs. Wooster is survived by two sons, Philip of Belvedere and Capt. John of San Rafael; two sisters, Miss Bluxome and Mrs. Mary B. Manning of Oakland, and a brother, Dr. Miers Bluxome of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Inurnment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

LILLIAN CHERNE

Mrs. Lillian M. Cherne, 52, Marin resident for 26 years and life-time California resident, died today at a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Cherne lived at 1 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo. She is survived by her husband, Frank J. Cherne, a San Anselmo real estate broker; a son, Frank J. Jr.; three brothers, William M. Forester and Harold M. Forester of Albany and Raymond P. Forester of Fairfax.

A Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Rita's Church, Fairfax. The cortege will assemble at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9 a.m. Recitation of the Rosary will be tomorrow at 8 p.m. Interment will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

ESTHER REINHARDT

Funeral services for Mrs. Esther B. Reinhardt, 44-year resident of Marin County, were held today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Reinhardt died Friday at a local rest home after a long illness. Her family home was at 515 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Lillie Hernon of San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. Letitia McChesney and Mrs. Lillian Schoesson of San Francisco; and a brother, Michael T. Hernon of San Francisco.

A native of California, Mrs. Reinhardt was a member of Native Daughters of the Golden West, Marinita Parlor 198; Pocahontas, Genessee Council 180, and the Druids, Circle 137.

GERDA BIRKY

Funeral services for Mrs. Gerda C. Birky, 40, a resident of Marin for one year and native of North Dakota, will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Birky died Friday in a local hospital. She had been ill since January. She and her husband, a former associate pastor at the First Methodist Church in Glendale, lived there before coming to Marin. The family home is at 69 Navarro Street, Greenbrae.

Mrs. Birky is survived by her husband, H. Gordon Birky, now the program counselor for the California-Nevada Conference of the Methodist Church; two daughters, Kathryn A., 9, and Lynda M., 7; and her mother, Mrs. Clara Gladheim of Minot, North Dakota.

Kentfield School Budget Session

Kentfield School District trustees will discuss a tentative 1960-61 budget at 7:45 p.m. today in room 10 of the Wolfe Grade School.

The board will consider hiring Velma Avant, speech therapist, for three days a week instead of the present two days, increasing the preliminary budget by about $1,800. Available at the meeting will be copies of the complete classified (non-teaching) personnel handbook and contract, including job specifications.

The winning number is 131631. The holder of the lucky ducate should record it with the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce by Thursday noon. Nine other numbers were drawn as alternates in case the winner does not show. The alternate numbers in order are: 22,904, 071661, 081144, 146601, 035806, 092742, 098,370, 096241 and 030258.

Assembly Passes Cigarette Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly today voted 68-4 in favor of granting cigarette smokers a $4.75 million annual tax break.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, appeared to be one of the very few tax reduction measures with a chance of winning final approval this year.

Under the proposal by Assemblyman Milton Marks, (R-San Francisco) California smokers who pay a state tax of three cents a package on cigarettes could claim that as a deduction on their federal income tax. This would be possible by labeling the cigarette levy as a "consumer tax."

How good a business manager are you for the most precious people of all? You can find out from your Metropolitan man with a

FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Every year millions of fathers have health check-ups. Yet, millions of fathers don't check up on their family's financial health.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company now offers a service which lets you do just that: The Family Security Check-Up. It is a service which can bring you new information and correct mistakes. It lets you make sure you've planned your family's future with your head as well as your heart.

What you could lose without one

There are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan. Or, too often, it simply falls behind the times.

For example, the Social Security law has been changed nine times since its inception. And the Social Security benefits your wife and children could get may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs. Then too—you can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the Company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this Family Security Check-Up service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street—as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.

There is no obligation—except to those you love.

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.

2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.

3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.

4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

Novato Planners Due Power Line Proposal

Novato Planning Commissioners tonight will consider a proposal by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to run a 200,000-volt electric transmission line on steel towers through a portion of the city.

Residents outside the city, in the Indian Valley and Fallon areas, already have protested the move to the county planning commission, which continued its consideration of the proposal to its May 15 meeting.

Tonight PG&E will ask permission to put up towers of a median height of 130 feet and a maximum height of 170 feet through a little more than half mile of Novato. An area for 120 feet under the line must be clear of habitation or buildings.

The proposed line would be within the city limits beginning at a point on a ridge between Raphael Village and South Novato Boulevard anl going west on a line crossing approximately the north edge of the San Jose District school site fronting on San Jose Boulevard extension.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the city hall. Also on the agenda is a request for approval of a tentative map for the first stage of development of the 1,100 acres of land north of the city which Andrew B. Talbot, San Francisco, and his associates intend to annex to the city.

Rail Excursion Success; Both Runs Sold Out

Willis Silverthorn, retired Northwestern Pacific Railroad engineer of Sausalito, showed colored movies on railroading to Reed and Bel Aire school children today following Saturday's highly successful train excursions from Tiburon to San Rafael.

Silverthorn, a member of the railway and locomotive historical society, will explain pictures and use of equipment to the pupils.

Both train runs were sold out last Monday. When Mrs. Beverly Bastian, president of the sponsoring Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society arrived for the 10:30 a.m. run Saturday, she found youngsters "mobbing the train" who didn't have tickets. Railroad authorities said they could take more passengers if Mrs. Bastian approved. She did. Each run took 300 passengers, 50 more than had been scheduled.

Railroad fans followed in cars and met the train at places such as one of the three tunnels and at the trestle on Tiburon highway, waving as the train went over the structure.

In San Rafael, train riders got off while the engine was switched. At this time, youngsters put pennies on the track, something their fathers and grandfathers had done. After the engine had run over the pennies, the youngsters ran to get them as souvenirs of the day.

Midnight Fight Results In Jail

David F. Hill, 101 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield, was charged yesterday with assault, battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness after a midnight fight in Mill Valley.

When sheriff's deputies arrived, Serafini had pinned the 200-pound Hill to the ground, as Dr. and Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Carol J. Hill of San Francisco awaited deputies.

Under the proposal by Assemblyman Milton Marks, (R-San Francisco) California smokers who pay a state tax of three cents a package on cigarettes could claim that as a deduction on their federal income tax. This would be possible by labeling the cigarette levy as a "consumer tax."

Health Experts Look At Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Leading health experts are changing their methods of helping the sick. They are gradually recognizing the importance that the nervous system plays in good health.

These experts have noted that defective bone structure interferes with nerves and robs the body of vital nerve energy.

Sometimes a fall, a sudden jar or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of the spine. Nerves often are pinched when one of the 24 bones of the spine is jarred out of line. This can cause almost any type of illness imaginable . . . for the body cannot function properly when the spine is out of line.

The strange part about spinal misalignment is that the person rarely feels any great pain in his back. When ill, however, the smart thing is to look for the cause—and the safe thing is to have your spine checked by a chiropractor. Doctors of Chiropractic are specialists in correcting spinal defects.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C. practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201. (Adv.)

FATHERS:

How good a business manager are you for the most precious people of all? You can find out from your Metropolitan man with a

FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Every year millions of fathers have health check-ups. Yet, millions of fathers don't check up on their family's financial health.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company now offers a service which lets you do just that: The Family Security Check-Up. It is a service which can bring you new information and correct mistakes. It lets you make sure you've planned your family's future with your head as well as your heart.

What you could lose without one

There are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan. Or, too often, it simply falls behind the times.

For example, the Social Security law has been changed nine times since its inception. And the Social Security benefits your wife and children could get may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs. Then too—you can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the Company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this Family Security Check-Up service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street—as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.

There is no obligation—except to those you love.

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.

2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.

3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.

4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

Surrender Expected Soon In Narcotics Sale Case

A 22-year-old San Rafael man allegedly involved in sale of heroin to police undercover agents was expected to surrender today to San Francisco police.

Inspector William Logan identified him as Leo Galli, street address unknown, son of San Rafael nurseryman Leo A. Galli.

Logan said city and state police agents worked their way into a group of suspected narcotics peddlers, including Galli and Donald D. Oliver, 26, of 223 Sceinc Avenue, Fairfax. Seventeen suspects were picked up last week in one of the biggest narcotics roundups in San Francisco police history.

The suspects were indicted secretly by the grand jury May 1. They were to be arraigned in Superior Court today or tomorrow.

Logan said arrests of two more Marin residents involved in the case are expected.

Oliver was convicted of narcotics in Marin County Jan. 31 and placed on supervised probation for three years. He was told to seek psychiatric treatment.

Marinite Elected

John Larkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Larkin, 72 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, was elected junior class vice-president of the Associated Students at the University of California, Santa Barbara for the 1961-62 school year. John is a sophomore majoring in history.

ed inclination to attract microscopic lint off the rapidly moving paper rolls. Until Cal-Ink made its final breakthrough, halftone plates would "fill" and print solid black unless some such device as the brush were used to clean them.

No such gadget is required for the I-J presses. In fact, no sort of modification or special attachment was needed.

Ink mist, say the researchers, has been one of the oldest enemies of the pressroom. It has become progressively worse as newspapers installed higher speed presses.

Misting of conventional oil-base newspaper inks has always cast a smog of carbon particles over the whole pressroom, leaving deposits on presses, controls, floors, paper and pressmen.

Marin County gets the benefit of the new ink as Cal-Ink is still completing plans for full-scale production and possible licensing to other makers.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wide price swings on heavy volume marked a churning stock market today.

With transactions running over five million shares and the popular market indicators showed slight over-all declines, favorable business news appeared to have little over-all impact.

The market seemed far more responsive to market letters and individual corporate news developments.

Alleged Assault Victim Is Sued Over Accident

Mrs. Carmen Adilia Swezy, 30, of 608 Kernberry Drive, Terra Linda, who was victim last week of an alleged assault with a deadly weapon by her husband, today was sued for $56,278 for an accident on Highway 101 on May 19, 1960.

Rose and Julius Paul of Rose Paul Realty, 2020 Fourth Street, San Rafael, filed a suit in Marin County Superior Court, asking $442 for damage to Julius Paul's car, $835 medical expenses for Rose Paul, $5,000 damage for loss of income from her real estate business and $50,000 general damages.

Mrs. Swezy was allegedly cut under her eye, forearm and chest last Wednesday by her husband David Clark Swezy, 44, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Mrs. Swezy was treated at Marin General Hospital and released.

Mower Injures Foot Of Tam Valley Man

Donald J. Taylor of 134 Yale Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was cutting the lawn at his home yesterday when he slipped and fell into the mower, amputating parts of his first and fourth toes. He was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Vets To Meet

Marin County veterans groups will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the chambers of Municipal Judge Harold J. Haley at the courthouse in San Rafael to organize Memorial Day services, according to A. C. Pfefferkorn, committee chairman.

Swindle Suspect Is Picked Up

J. B. Moody, suspected as being a partner of Vernon G. Lawson, who allegedly swindled two elderly San Anselmo sisters, was arrested in Sacramento Saturday.

Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo picked up Moody from Sacramento police who had held him at request of San Anselmo.

Moody was in the county jail today with bail set at $2,625. He was to appear in Municipal court this afternoon. Lawson is to appear tomorrow.

Moody and Lawson are suspected of bilking Emma F. and Josefa Daniel, 81 and 86, out of almost $1,000 on a false claim they had made roof and gutter repairs to the sisters' home during the last five years.

Four Boys Due To Appear On Murder Charges

Four San Francisco teen-age boys charged with the murder and robbery of Ross School teacher William P. Hall will appear before Judge Melvin Cronin in San Francisco juvenile court in about 10 days.

The judge will decide whether the cases against the youths should be referred to the adult courts or handled in his court.

Probation officer Warren Cain said he is now investigating to determine each boy's involvement in the crime. Reports will be prepared for the juvenile court.

The boys, Larry Magee, 16; Robert Hall, 17; William Castillo, 17 and Michael Kilkenny, 16, were arrested last Thursday. They are all confined to the Youth Guidance Center.

Must Neither Exaggerate, Belittle Our Space Flight

We must be careful not to either exagerate or belittle our achievement in space. The flight of our astronaut was indeed a breakthrough for us. Apparently it was not for the Russians.

But we must not belittle what we have done. Even though our space flight was on a tiny scale when compared with the three swings around the world the Russians report they accomplished, there was a big difference.

Without detracting from the courage and training it must have taken, the Soviet cosmonaut merely went along as a passenger. He literally replaced the animals which had made the trip before him.

Not so with the American. He was more than a passenger. He was in command of his vehicle. He proved that not only can man fly into space, survive weightlessness and other hazards, but that he can think and act in the process. In addition, our flight proved we can make a vehicle which will react to the instructions such a man gives it.

There is no doubt that the Soviets are well ahead of us in the ability to boost huge weights high in the sky or into orbit. But it does not follow that therefore they are ahead in the refinements of detail of space travel, or ability to control vehicles.

Because of the secrecy behind the Iron Curtain we do not know how many manned shots were necessary before the first Red satellite orbitted and returned a man to earth. There have been rumors of lives lost in earlier attempts, but no information.

We may lose lives of our astronauts before our experiments are completed. Certainly there will be many lives lost in the early years of the space age, just as there were famous lives lost in the early air age.

But we move ahead more slowly, with more tests and safety measures as we go. We do this partly because we live in an open society where everyone has knowledge of what is going on. And partly we do this because we believe in the importance of the individual, rather than the importance of the state.

The flight of Alan B. Shepard did not catch us up with the Russians in space. But it was a major achievement of which we can all be proud. It was our first step in manned flight and we can look forward to others in the near future.

HELPLESS AS FIREHOUSE BURNS

A firehouse burned down recently while the helpless volunteers looked on. They had little choice because all their fire-fighting equipment was inside the burning building.

In desperation they sent a hurried call to a near-by town. But by the time the other volunteers arrived, the building and three fire trucks inside had been completely destroyed.

An investigation revealed that a defect in the electric wiring within the building caused damages estimated at $50,000.

Minor weaknesses often lead to major tragedies. More often than not, these little imperfections could be corrected by practically anyone if detected in time.

Do your part to right any wrongs that you observe in public as well as private life, God will bless your slightest effort, and what you do may be a decisive factor in preventing a catastrophe that causes harm to everyone.

"God is my helper, and in Him will I put my trust." (Psalm 17:3)

Grant, O Lord, that I will be alert to every opportunity to promote good and deter evil.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Story Disappoints Exchange Student

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was very surprised and also very disappointed to read the headline of the article concerning my impressions of my stay in the United States. I am willing to correct some of the impressions that have resulted from this article, and you would oblige me very much by publishing this letter.

"Whole dating system is wrong. Shouldn't be allowed."

The way the article is worded leads me to the conclusion that I have been misunderstood or that I didn't express myself clearly.

First of all, I must say that, in contradiction with what the headline would tend to indicate, dating is not my main and only concern. I consider dating in itself rather unimportant. I do not recall saying that the "whole dating system is wrong." Upon answering the questions that I was asked, I merely wanted to point out what appear to me as a contradiction in the American system.

This contradiction lies in the rather strict approach of American society towards teen-age relationships on the one hand, and the social pressure put on dating on the other hand. This situation, I wanted to express, may sometimes lead to difficult situations.

I do not remember stating that "American parents shouldn't allow dating" or that my "impression of American parents is bad." There is a big difference between noticing a contradiction, probably having very logical explanations, and condemning a whole system. If I ever said anything similar to a definite condemnation, I take it back and ask you to consider it as a failure to express myself correctly.

As a matter of fact, I enjoy very much being able to be frank and to date freely.

I want to say again that I was very deceived to see "my impressions" about dating become the main issue of this article. I think that my impressions of the school system, for instance, are much more important.

When I was getting ready to leave my country for the United States, I gathered notes about NATO, the European common market, Benelux, and other different projects of European cooperation. I have talked to many different groups. I never got a chance to use my notes. I was never asked a single question about those organizations. However, the question "What about dating in your country?" never failed to come up. A survey amongst Belgian teen-agers would have been a lot more useful to me.

I am tired and disgusted to have this juvenile classification constantly forced upon me. I want to take a chance of this opportunity to say that Belgian students, and American, too, when given a fair chance, have other subjects of interest than school, dating, and teen-age problems. I am willing to prove it, if you are interested, by publishing one of several articles dealing with the Belgian political situation, as seen by the younger generation.

I hope that this letter will clarify a certain number of obscure points and will prevent you from thinking that a "prudish Belgian exchange student" is scorning your dating system and almost everything else.

Add Plea For More Blood

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Please accept our congratulations on your fine editorial, "Will Marin Donate Enough Blood To Meet Local Needs?"

We would like to add our plea that Marin County residents take advantage of the fact that a permanent Blood Center is now conveniently located in San Rafael.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that fresh blood and blood products must be immediately available for patients in our hospitals. This is possible only through the blood donation program.

We also would like to extend our congratulations to the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society, and the Marin County Blood Bank Committee, for their foresight in establishing the new center; and our sincere thanks for services during the past 10 years.

Too Few Wood Carvers With Right Outlook On Materialism

The other day, while in the search of truth, we went to see our favorite wood carver, Barney West.

We found the old carver in Sausalito sitting on his boat, the "Wooden Shoe," reading a book. He put on a shirt and gave us a stool.

Barney spoke about imagination, iconoclasts and individuality. He said "the most beautiful thing about humans is their difference."

"But," he said, "people are afraid to express what they think, afraid to use their imagination. Conforming has given Amercia an 'any face' mediocrity."

Sausalito, he said, should not turn into a chic-chic waterfront apartment town to lose its small boats and artist colony.

HE SAID "we should strive for the rights of the individual to reach our highest attainment without having to conform. The true individual of our race would be a true iconoclast—one who is not satisfied with things as they are."

Our forefathers, Barney said, were a lot less selfish and less concerned with materialistic living than we are. He spoke of Melville, Edison, Ford.

"Materialistic things are only tools to think with. You can only sleep in one bed," he said, "and only eat three meals a day and drive in one car at a time. A car is a means of transportation.

Barney's second-hand sailboat, "Black Gull," was bobbing up and down alongside the "Wooden Shoe."

"Look out there at Barney's materialism," said his wife, patting her six-month-old son on the bottom.

"Barney," we said, "there are too few wood carvers."

LAST WEEK was an Irish one. Sausalito attorney-at-law John B. Ehlen received his grandparents' license with the birth of his first grandson, Trav Peter. The license, issued by the consul general of Ireland in San Francisco, says he can spoil the child but does not have to change his pants.

Brendan Behan, Irish author of "The Hostage," walked into Helen Kerr's office in Sausalito town, kissed her and then said "sure and I'm glad the Irish are here."

Helen, Irish as County Cork, said of Behan "he's black Irish, but I like him."

Behan also took the air at the Old Mill Tavern in Mill Valley. Bartender O. F. McGree said he came in, took a refresher, sang "Home On The Range" and disappeared in the night.

JIMMY QUINN will be three-quarters of a century May 15. Asked what he plans to do for his birthday, he said "stay home." The jocular and cocky Mill Valley trademark says "I've got 25 years to go."

Charles Burks, bootblack, is back in Mill Valley, having given up the used car business for a stand at the bus depot. His new stand, which will have plastic contour seats, will have a grand opening soon, Burks said. Burks prefers the shoe shine trade, he said, "because I like to meet the people." Regarding Kennedy having won the election from Burk's man Nixon, Burks says "he didn't win it, he stole it."

SALMON ARE running again off the Golden Gate according to Sid McMullen, partner in Tony Caruso's bait shop in Sausalito. But the fish got a break with the wind last week.

It seems Sunday and Monday were fine fishing days, then the wind came up at midweek and heavy seas and the fishermen couldn't go out. Not good for business, McMullen said, but "it's Mother Nature taking care of the fish."

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

You Drove About 9,571 Last Year —If You're Average (And Who Is?)

How far do you drive your car in a year? The figure for the average U. S. motorist is 9,571 miles. (But who'll admit they're average.)

Here's something you probably didn't know about your eyes: It takes them only one-thirtieth of a second to see an object in black and white, but a fifth of a second to see anything in color.

Who is responsible for the martini? San Franciscans claim this potent drink—originally called the martinez—was invented in the Occidental Bar in the early 1860s.

The real question isn't who—but why!

Our Quotable Notables: "Let no one who loves be called altogether unhappy."—James M. Barrie.

Restaurant Lore: Those tall white hats which chefs proudly wear have been a symbol of prestige with them since 1566, when the king of France officially recognized the cooks' union.

The average American woman if any woman can be called average has a step of 26 inches. She takes 2,437 steps per mile and walks about 5 miles a day.

Our nomination for the most interesting newspaper ad of the year, reported published in a British paper: "The Clairvoyant Society will not hold its usual meeting this week due to unforeseen circumstances."

Tip to Housewives: You can imrove the flavor of instant coffee if you cover the cup with its saucer for 15 seconds after pouring in the boiling water.

Odd Legislation: In some states a beauty operator's license can be revoked if, when giving a shampoo, she fails to lather the customer's hair at least twice.

Is your child good in arithmetic. Then encourage him to become an accountant. There is a big boom now in this career field. Business talent scouts touring college campuses are offering graduate accountants starting salaries of $450 to $500 a month.

Wisecrack of the Week: "An alarm clock," says singer Jeannie Thomas, "is a mechanical device to wake up people who have no children."

PROSPERITY NOTE: Uncle Sam now prints about 35 million dollars in paper currency daily. What we'd like to know is—who's getting our share?

What is the most costly gem? A diamond may be a girl's best friend but, carat for carat, a flawless emerald is more expensive.

OLD REMEDY: At one time it was thought you could "ground" the pains of arthritis by wearing copper nails in your shoes.

It was John Stuart Mill who observed, "A state which dwarfs its men in order that they may be more docile instruments in its hands, even for beneficial purposes, will find that with small men no great thing can really be accomplished."

Someone Must Explain Our New Foreign Policy Needs to Public

WASHINGTON—Even with a cease-fire in Laos, our prospects in Indo-China are bleak. In Laos, the State Department gambled and lost on the policy that a pro-American government based on the American military presence could be pushed right up against Communist China and Communist Vietminh.

In South Vietnam, which adjoins Laos, the government which we brought into power and which we support, is in great peril. It still holds the cities, but it has all but lost control of the countryside to the Communist guerrillas.

WITH VARIATIONS, these conditions exist elsewhere, and unless this situation can be explained to our people, the President faces a series of inglorious and unpopular rearguard actions.

Here he can find the first answer to the famous question in his inaugural address of what we can do for our country. What we can do for our country is first of all to give up being too proud to go through that truly agonizing reappraisal which is needed so that we can see the realities.

THIS COUNTRY has never yet had a leader who has dared to explain candidly the consequences of the change in the world balance of power since the Soviet Union broke the American nuclear monopoly in 1949.

Until about the middle 'fifties, until the Soviet Union began to develop missiles to carry nuclear weapons, our military pre-eminence was still so great that we were able with impunity to encircle the Soviet Union with military bases extending from Japan and South Korea through Southeast and South Asia to the Middle East. We were strong enough to order the Red Army out of northern Iran, which is on the Soviet frontier. We were able to thwart the blockade of West Berlin by an airlift.

When the Soviet Union became a nuclear power, when our supremacy was reduced to parity, the wiser men of the West, those with long memories and long experience and long heads, realized that military outposts could not be maintained on the frontiers of the Communist world.

The change in the world balance of power demanded a change in our policy. It demanded that we scrap the policy of American satellite states and promote instead a policy of neutralism for the weak and vulnerable peripheral states. That is the best, indeed that is the only, hope of their not being engulfed by Communism.

In some measure, the Kennedy administration has recognized this truth—for example in accepting the idea of neutral Laos. But the President has never explained it to the country, and therefore he has no reliable public opinion on which to lean.

Furthermore, there are strong bureaucratic interests in the State Department, the C. I. A., and the Pentagon which are opposed to a change of policy by President Kennedy.

Until the country understands that the basic conception of our policy has to be changed, Kennedy will be a harried man. He will have a series of crises in which he has to be on the defensive and always trying to see how little he can lose. Moreover, the energies of the country and his energies will be dispersed and distracted from the great tasks.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, urbane and accomplished British actor, has completed an autobiography entitled "A Victorian in Orbit." In it he boasts of a compliment he received from Bernard Shaw. "You are," announced Shaw, "my fifth favorite actor, the first four being the Marx Brothers."

King George had a little trouble the day he knighted Sir Cedric. As Hardwicke knelt before him, the Lord Chamberlin read his name. The King said sharply, "Who?" He didn't get it the second time, either, then demanded, "Spell it." "For an actor's name to be spelled out," confessed Hardwicke, "is his greatest humiliation." It turned out that spelling didn't help King George a bit. He finally whacked Sir Cedric on the back with his jeweled sword, and dubbed him, rather testily, "Sir Samuel Pickwick."

Must Neither Exaggerate, Belittle Our Space Flight

We must be careful not to either exagerate or belittle our achievement in space. The flight of our astronaut was indeed a breakthrough for us. Apparently it was not for the Russians.

But we must not belittle what we have done. Even though our space flight was on a tiny scale when compared with the three swings around the world the Russians report they accomplished, there was a big difference.

Without detracting from the courage and training it must have taken, the Soviet cosmonaut merely went along as a passenger. He literally replaced the animals which had made the trip before him.

Not so with the American. He was more than a passenger. He was in command of his vehicle. He proved that not only can man fly into space, survive weightlessness and other hazards, but that he can think and act in the process. In addition, our flight proved we can make a vehicle which will react to the instructions such a man gives it.

There is no doubt that the Soviets are well ahead of us in the ability to boost huge weights high in the sky or into orbit. But it does not follow that therefore they are ahead in the refinements of detail of space travel, or ability to control vehicles.

Because of the secrecy behind the Iron Curtain we do not know how many manned shots were necessary before the first Red satellite orbitted and returned a man to earth. There have been rumors of lives lost in earlier attempts, but no information.

We may lose lives of our astronauts before our experiments are completed. Certainly there will be many lives lost in the early years of the space age, just as there were famous lives lost in the early air age.

But we move ahead more slowly, with more tests and safety measures as we go. We do this partly because we live in an open society where everyone has knowledge of what is going on. And partly we do this because we believe in the importance of the individual, rather than the importance of the state.

The flight of Alan B. Shepard did not catch us up with the Russians in space. But it was a major achievement of which we can all be proud. It was our first step in manned flight and we can look forward to others in the near future.

HELPLESS AS FIREHOUSE BURNS

A firehouse burned down recently while the helpless volunteers looked on. They had little choice because all their fire-fighting equipment was inside the burning building.

In desperation they sent a hurried call to a near-by town. But by the time the other volunteers arrived, the building and three fire trucks inside had been completely destroyed.

An investigation revealed that a defect in the electric wiring within the building caused damages estimated at $50,000.

Minor weaknesses often lead to major tragedies. More often than not, these little imperfections could be corrected by practically anyone if detected in time.

Do your part to right any wrongs that you observe in public as well as private life, God will bless your slightest effort, and what you do may be a decisive factor in preventing a catastrophe that causes harm to everyone.

"God is my helper, and in Him will I put my trust." (Psalm 17:3)

Ward Austin Named Marin Citizen Of '61

ter for Marin government, his membership in the San Anselmo Rotary Club, church activities and membership in professional and educational societies.

Austin was visibly moved as he accepted the honor of outstanding citizen which has been won in previous years by Wishard Brown, Manny Charnow, Joseph N. Brusatori and Fred F. Enemark.

The first recipient of the award in 1955 was Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, only living member of the first college board of trustees. She was on the speakers platform with Austin at yesterday's ceremonies.

In 1951, after 25 years of service on the board of trustees, Mrs. Fusselman was honored with the naming of the college library after her.

Austin urged that many names be added to those honored yesterday as contributors to the college growth. They include William T. Kent, who gave the Tamalpais Center property to the school; Dr. George Rodden and George Harlan, members of the original committee for establishment of the college; architects, engineers and landscape designers who contributed to the campus.

"I want to especially express my appreciation to members and former members of my staff, Dr. Wallace Hall and Paul Clymer, both of whom have served under me as vice presidents," said Austin.

Special recognition was given by Austin to the Independent-Journal and its publisher, Roy A. Brown. "All through the years the paper and its staff have been most generous in their support of the college," he said.

Austin also cited the services of Dr. Thomas Blakely and Dr. Samuel N. Le Count, adult education directors; Miss Grace Donnan, registrar who is retiring this year; William S. Nock, honorary chairman, and Lee Blomquist, chairman of the founders day committee, "who have made a wonderful day in the history of the College of Marin."

"It is wonderful to have some of the thousands of our students back here today and to know that wherever we go, many of the butchers, bakers and candlestick makers—plus engineers, doctors, nurses, teachers, lawyers and tradesmen—are former Mariners," Austin said.

"The College of Marin has been a wonderful experience for Mrs. Austin and me and, in the years ahead, we wish all of you every success.

"Come up and see us sometime."

WHAT TIME IS IT? — Comparing watches at yesterday's College of Marin Founders' Day ceremonies were Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman and Ward H. Austin, retiring president of the college. Mrs. Fusselman's watch was given her by the college in 1951 after 25 years of service on the board of trustees. Austin's timepiece was given him yesterday by the Marin County Real Estate Board, who named him Marin's outstanding citizen of 1961, an honor awarded Mrs. Fusselman in 1955. 35th Anniversary Celebrated At College Founders' Day

A crowd of about 500 gathered under the chestnut trees at College of Marin yesterday to celebrate the school's 35th birthday.

The Founders' Day ceremonies were in honor of contributions made to the college by 27 former board members, teachers and other employees since the school's founding in 1927.

Heading the list of those honored was President Ward H. Austin, who has served with the college for 34 years and will retire this year.

Speaker of the day was Dr. Arthur P. Colardarci, professor of education and psychology at Stanford University, who cited the junior college as "in the best position, more than any other social institution" to play a progressive role in education in our society.

Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, only living member of the original board of rustees, received a standing ovation when she was introduced by William M. Gwinn, master of ceremonies and former student and faculty member.

"I remember that they said they didn't want a woman on that first board," Mrs. Fusselman said. "But the women voters of the county decided differently."

Certificates were presented by Mrs. Fusselman to seven other former board members: William A. Hamilton, Ray E. Henfling, Charles L. Howell, Russell A. Mackey, L. R. Moretti, Francis F. Seitz and Elliot W. Seymour .Not present to receive their honors were two other former board members, Dr. L. A. Remy and Macon Smith.

Members of the college faculty and administration who have served 25 or more years were introduced and given certificates by Gwinn. They are Clarice M. Ball, Carlton E. Cherry, Paul Clymer, E. Dewart Lewis, S. Luman Mitchell, C. A. Pulskamp and Paul T. Wilson. Not present were Martha Himes, Cliton Lewis and Mrs. Ethel Cobb Souza.

Gwinn also awarded certificates of honor to seven members of the non-teaching staff who have served 15 or more years: Norman Birse, Grace Donnan, Walter Lenghart, John Oimi, Mrs. Minnie Perkins and Mrs. Juanita M. Willis.

Colardarci was introduced by Dr. Stephen E. Epler, college director, who will assume the presidency on the retirement of Austin at the end of next month.

The welcoming speech was given by Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the board of trustees. The invocation was offered by Dr. Harold K. Graves, president of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, and the benediction was given by Dr. Jacob A. Long, vice president of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

How much Life Insurance should you own?
Most of us have asked this question only to discover there is no ready-made answer because needs and circumstances vary from family to family. The father of three children has greater needs and responsibilities than the young man who has just recently married. Some people have more substantial financial reserves than others. How much Life Insurance should you own to meet YOUR needs? Would it be $15,000?—$25,000?—$50,000 or more?
The Man from Manufacturers is in business to help you arrive at the right answer. Through his Security Graph Service you yourself can determine if you have enough life insurance to do the job you want done. Ask him about this special service today.

ter for Marin government, his membership in the San Anselmo Rotary Club, church activities and membership in professional and educational societies.

Austin was visibly moved as he accepted the honor of outstanding citizen which has been won in previous years by Wishard Brown, Manny Charnow, Joseph N. Brusatori and Fred F. Enemark.

The first recipient of the award in 1955 was Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, only living member of the first college board of trustees. She was on the speakers platform with Austin at yesterday's ceremonies.

In 1951, after 25 years of service on the board of trustees, Mrs. Fusselman was honored with the naming of the college library after her.

Austin urged that many names be added to those honored yesterday as contributors to the college growth. They include William T. Kent, who gave the Tamalpais Center property to the school; Dr. George Rodden and George Harlan, members of the original committee for establishment of the college; architects, engineers and landscape designers who contributed to the campus.

"I want to especially express my appreciation to members and former members of my staff, Dr. Wallace Hall and Paul Clymer, both of whom have served under me as vice presidents," said Austin.

Special recognition was given by Austin to the Independent-Journal and its publisher, Roy A. Brown. "All through the years the paper and its staff have been most generous in their support of the college," he said.

Austin also cited the services of Dr. Thomas Blakely and Dr. Samuel N. Le Count, adult education directors; Miss Grace Donnan, registrar who is retiring this year; William S. Nock, honorary chairman, and Lee Blomquist, chairman of the founders day committee, "who have made a wonderful day in the history of the College of Marin."

"It is wonderful to have some of the thousands of our students back here today and to know that wherever we go, many of the butchers, bakers and candlestick makers—plus engineers, doctors, nurses, teachers, lawyers and tradesmen—are former Mariners," Austin said.

Weekend Traffic Reaps Big Crop Of Accidents

A two-year-old child was critically injured when her mother "blacked out" at the wheel of a car in San Rafael Meadows.

A teen-aged Novato girl suffered a possible skull fracture when the car in which she was riding went out of control and struck a utility pole.

Two Tiburon men were cut and bruised when a tire blew out and sent their car careening over an embankment.

SHAKEN UP

Four San Franciscans were shaken up when their car overturned on a curve near Dillon Beach.

These were Marin traffic accidents of the weekend. In only one injury accident was more than one car involved; and in that—in Kent Woodlands—the injuries were minor.

The two most serious accidents were strikingly similar. In both, the cars hit utility poles.

Mrs. Bernice Mary Ruffo of 13½ Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia, was rounding a curve on Merrydale Road in San Rafael Meadows Saturday morning when her car left the road and crashed into a utility pole.

With Mrs. Ruffo was her 2-year-old daughter and namesake. The child was reported in critical condition at Marin General Hospital with possible concussion, fractured jaw and spinal injury. Her mother was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts and bruises. She told the California Highway Patrol, "I must have blacked out."

Sherri Bester, 15, of 6 Drakewood Lane, Novato, was a passenger in a car driven by Edward M. Lopes, 17, of the Clementino Ranch in Sonoma County when it went into a broadside skid at a curve on Novato Boulevard at 12:20 a.m. yesterday and hit a utility pole near Eucalyptus Avenue.

THROWN OUT

Miss Bester was thrown from the car. Lopes and two other passengers were uninjured. The highway patrol cited Lopes for speeding.

James Thornton Giles of 4695 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, office manager for California Wine Assn. in San Francisco, was at the wheel of a car which blew a tire, careened over an embankment and hit a chain link fence on the Alto connector road just off Highway 101 at 7:10 p.m. yesterday. He and his passenger, Donald Johnson of the same address, suffered cuts and bruises.

A car carrying five South Marin young people plunged 30 feet over a bank and into a grove of trees off a curve of Buena Vista Avenue approaching Mill Valley early yesterday.

Driver David Charles Muller III, 20, of 22 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley, told police an oncoming car forced him off the road.

Muller was uninjured as were two passengers. But passenger Jim Lucas, 19, of 25 Matilda Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated for cuts and bruises.

Injured when a car overturned on the Dillon Beach Road, eastbound toward Tomales, Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Ashton and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Cain, San Francisco neighbors. Mrs. Ashton, who was driving, also blamed an oncoming car. She and Mrs. Cain were both reported in satisfactory condition, with unspecified injuries, today in Petaluma General Hospital. Their husbands were released after remaining in the hospital overnight.

In a two-car crash on a curve near 320 Goodhill Road, Kent Woodlands, Saturday afternoon, Judy Ann D'Amico, of Fairfax, suffered leg cuts and a torn ligament in her left knee. She was driver of one car. The other was driven by Harry L. Evans, 73, of Kentfield.

Mid-Continent Struck By Twisters, Floods

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent storms and floods, the spring season's two-pronged disaster weapon, took a heavy toll in deaths and injuries over the weekend across broad sections of the mid-continent.

Property damage in the storm-battered sections of eight states was in the millions of dollars. Hundreds of persons were made temporarily homeless.

The flash floods and severe weather, including tornadoes, gusty winds, heavy rain and hail, were blamed for at least 29 deaths. Nearly 100 persons were injured.

The American Red Cross in St. Louis said arrangements were made to provide food, clothing, medical care and emergency shelter for an estimated 1,000 families in north central Arkansas, southeast Missouri, northeast Oklahoma, southern Illinois and Kansas.

Severe thunderstorms continued during the morning in many areas from Oklahoma and Kansas northeastward through the middle and upper Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region.

Tornadoes struck six communities in Arkansas yesterday, killing four persons. Three others were drowned in swollen streams in the state. Included were two persons who lost their lives in a flash flood in Harrison, one of the hardest hit towns in the storm belt.

The twisters in Arkansas hit Midway, Whiteville, Clarkridge, Pindall, Summitt and Oil Trough. Three persons were killed at Summitt, near Yellville, and one person in Midway. About 40 homes were destroyed in a 20-mile area between Pindall and Yellville. Nineteen persons were hurt.

National Guardsmen were sent into Harrison, a community of 6,500, after Gov. Orval E. Faubus declared martial law. Crooked Creek overflowed and sent a wall of water 14 feet high through the streets of the northwest Arkansas town. Two men drowned and an elderly couple was missing in Harrison. Damage was estimated by Mayor Dene O. Hester at five to ten million dollars. A youth drowned in flooded Sugar Creek near Springdale, the seventh storm-related death in Arkansas.

Tornadoes also pounded South Fork, Mo., about 60 miles northeast of the severe storm area in Arkansas, injuring eight persons. A dozen persons were hurt in a tornado which hit an area of Kansas and Missouri adjoining Kansas City. Tornadic winds lashed areas near Stamford, in west-central Texas, northern Oklahoma and in Madisonville, Ky.

Church Choirs Festival Was Success

By DAVID REED

Joseph's Coat of many colors was reincarnated at San Anselmo's First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon. The occasion was a festival of Marin County church choirs.

The front of the sanctuary was alive with sound and colors. There were eight choirs (blue robes), a trumpeter (and gold robes), an organist (and green robes), and the Marin Handbell Choir (and maroon robes).

When the 124 singers united to fill the church with lovely, robust choral tone, it was obvious that for amateur choirs the whole is always greater than the sum of its parts.

Dr. John Milton Kelly directed the massed choirs in four numbers. If the ensemble and diction were lacking in finesse, we must blame lack of rehearsal time and not the singers themselves. The overall effect was still an exciting one.

Individual choir performances were fairly well done, but after hearing the sound from the massed choirs, individual faults were magnified.

An exception to this was the San Anselmo Presbyterian Choir under leadership of Wilbur Russell. The phrasing, blend, and tone quality of this group were astonishingly good.

A most annoying distraction was the deportment and stage presence of the singers. If they wiggle, whisper, grimace and posture in their own churches this way, they are distracting from the worship service rather than enhancing it.

Aside from that sour note, the festival was enjoyable.

Eighth Graders Smoke? Yes, About 85%

Preliminary survey of eighth grade students at one Marin school has shown 85 per cent of them smoke cigarettes, a Marin Medical Society spokesman disclosed today.

Armed with this information, the medical society plans to launch a classroom program to tell Marin youngsters the dangers of smoking. The society has been invited to send speakers to Hill School (seventh-eighth grades) in Novato and Terra Linda High School (ninth-10th grades), said Dr. Gerald Hill, San Rafael psychiatrist who heads the society's public relations committee.

MANY 'CONFIRMED'

Dr. Hill said the survey at the one school (unidentified) covered 150 pupils, about 13-14 years old. It showed that of the total who smoke 27½ per cent are "confirmed" smokers, the remainder smoke "occasionally."

About 50 Marin doctors, a quarter of the membership of the society, have volunteered to speak to classes and explain the "calculated risk" of smoking, Dr. Hill reported.

A film strip, "To Smoke or Not To Smoke" produced by the American Cancer Society, will lead off the program at the schools. It is presented in such a way that the doctor or teacher can admit to smoking and try to convince the students not to smoke, Hill said. This would be an indication of the difficulty of giving up cigarettes once a person becomes a habitual smoker.

QUESTIONNAIRE DUE

The doctors also will ask students to answer, anonymously, a questionnaire to find out how many smoke and how often—as was done in the pilot study. National figures closely support the survey results of the eighth graders already polled in Marin, Hill pointed out.

He hopes to be able to repeat the poll in later years at the schools to have some indication of the effectiveness of the program.

Hill School and Terra Linda will be the beginning of the program this spring and if successful, it is expected to be continued on a county-wide level next year with the cooperation of school administrators. Discussions will be held next week at Hill School and on May 22-23 at Terra Linda High.

Streaking Giants Take On World Champions Tonight

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants have added another item to their list of unbelievable feats for 1961.

Alvin Dark's National League leaders were outhit yesterday—yet won by a 7-0 shutout over Philadelphia. The Giants stranded just one baserunner in a combination of home run power, basepath hustling and sharp fielding.

Philadelphia, meanwhile, abandoned six men. In one inning the Phils drilled three straight singles but failed to advance a runner to third.

Broadway Billy Loes went the route for his third victory against one loss. He tossed a slick seven-hitter while striking out seven, walking none, and equaling his total victory record for last season.

Veteran Robin Roberts, off to the worst start of his long baseball career, dropped his fifth straight without a victory.

But the moment of truth may be near for the Candlestickers, who have won four straight, eight of 10 on the road, and 10 of their last 13. The Giants must face the defending world champion Pittsburgh Pirates for three games beginning tonight.

Jack Sanford (1-2) gets the call for San Francisco. He'll face Harvey Haddix (1-0) of the Pirates, who trail the Giants by two and one-half games in third place. San Francisco leads second place Cincinnati by two.

Felipe Alou, Orlando Cepeda and Ed Bailey all blasted circuit clouts yesterday.

Some heads-up baserunning by Willie Mays made it 2-0 in the fourth. Mays walked, stole second and kept right on going to third when the ball skipped into center field. Willie then scored on the first of two sacrifice flies by Willie McCovey.

That was enough for the Giant victory. But San Francisco really unloaded on Roberts, who tossed a three-hitter for the first five frames, in the sixth.

Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller singled and the runners went to second and third when Johnny Callison's throw from the outfield hit Davenport. Mays was walked intentionally to fill the bases. McCovey hit his second sacrifice fly. Then Cepeda bombed one of the longest homers ever hit in Connie Mack Stadium to empty the bases.

The blow, Cepeda's fifth this year, landed atop the left field second-deck bleacher roof. It probably would have traveled 450 feet if not halted by a soft-drink sign.

Bailey's first roundtripper of the season as a Giant came during the seventh to complete the scoring.

Alou saved Loes' shutout in the fourth when the Phils opened with three straight singles. The Giant right fielder cut down Bob Sadowski going from first to third with a perfect no-bounce heave after the second base blow. Loes got out of the frame by getting Clay Dalrymple to pop, and striking out Pancho Herrera.

Philadelphia outhit San Francisco, 7-6. But all but one of the Phils' safeties were singles. It marked Philadelphia's sixth straight loss.

Smith Key Player In Trade That Sent Relief Ace Farrell To. L.A.

HANLEY

PITTSBURGH—Despite what anyone else says about the Dick Farrell trade, the Phillies are happy and so are the Dodgers, at least the managements of both clubs.

There has been considerable comment here in the east. Quite a few players believe the Phillies should have gotten more talent for Farrell.

"You'd think they'd have gotten one outstanding player for Farrell," was the reaction of one player.

There were Phillies with the same idea—not all of them but some. Other ex-teammates of Farrell foresaw Don Demeter and Charlie Smith, the two Dodgers swapped for Farrell and Joe Koppe, blossoming into stardom by getting the chance to play regularly.

Even with the opportunity of playing regularly, Demeter and Smith can't be overjoyed at being traded from a pennant contender to the tailend club. But it is just the reverse with Farrell who, like everyone else, knew the Braves and Dodgers both were dickering for him since the 1961 season opened.

"It's a great break for me," said the 27-year-old right hander who long has been regarded as one of the best relievers in baseball. He was so delighted with the deal that even the thought of relieving in Los Angeles Coliseum, where the left screen is 251 feet from home plate, didn't bother him. "I can't worry about that," he said.

The incident that prompted Dodger general manager Buzzy Bavasi to give Philly general manager John Quinn what he wanted for Farrell occurred last Thursday in Milwaukee. Gil Hodges had just homered in the 10th to put the Dodgers in a 6-5 lead but that was nullified when Joe Adcock rapped a grand slam homer off Jim Golden several minutes later.

Bavasi, burning at losing that tight game and envisioning similar future losses in late innings because of a bullpen that no longer has Ed Roebuck, immediately got Quinn on the telephone.

"It was completed all of a sudden," said Quinn. "Bavasi gave me a list of eight or nine Los Angeles players. I told him I liked Demeter but also liked Smith who wasn't listed. 'Put his name next to Demeter's and you've got yourself a deal for Farrel and Koppe.' Buzzy agreed. And that's the way it happened."

Philly manager Gene Mauch reported he was under the impression, and so was Quinn, that Smith was a Dodger untouchable.

"The last time we were on the coast, the Los Angeles people told me not even to bother mentioning the third baseman in connection with a trade. They told me it would be just a waste of time."

With Larry Sherry and Farrell now sharing the late inning stopper roles, the Dodgers more than ever are the "team to beat," as Charlie Dressen and many others labelled them in the pre-season picks.

WHEE, WILLIE—Willie Mays slides safely into third base under the tag of Philadelphia's Bob Sadowski in some fancy fourth inning baserunning for the Giants yesterday. Willie stole second and went to third on a throwing error as Giants romped to a 7-0 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Hey, Giants! Beware, Those Redlegs Are Running Fast

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Freddie Hutchinson it is either a feast or a famine. His Cincinnati Reds jumped away fast, won five of their first seven games and led the National League. They they lost eight straight and dropped to the cellar. Now they have won eight in a row and are running second, only two games off the pace.

Cincinnati turned on the home run power when four out of five batters—Frank Robinson, Wally Post, Leo Cardenas and Gordy Coleman—hit Warren Spahn for homers in a 5-4 first game victory over Milwaukee. Jim O'Toole then shut out the Braves with five hits 4-0 in the second game.

Billy Loes, the unpredictable one, pitched the league-leading San Francisco Giants to a 7-0 triumph, holding the Philadelphia Phillies to seven hits. Loes, a relief man when he was traded to the Giants by Baltimore in November, 1959, now has a 3-1 record as a starter and a 3.50 earned run average. A year ago his ERA was 12.00.

DODGERS EXPLODE

Los Angeles flexed its muscles at Pittsburgh where homers by Charlie Neal, Norm Larker and Frank Howard gave the Dodgers a 4-2 decision over the defending world champs. Sandy Koufax, with fine relief help from Larry Sherry, was the winner over George Witt, making his first start for the Pirates.

St. Louis' Ernie Broglio retired the last 14 men in a row as the Cardinals climbed up to the .500 mark by beating Chicago 4-2 in a game called after five innings because of rain. A scheduled second game was washed out.

In the American League, Detroit opened up a 2½-game lead on New York by taking a double-header from Chicago 8-6 and 5-3 while the Yankees were losing to Los Angeles 5-3. Chuck Schilling drove in six runs in Boston's 11-9 victory over Minnesota. Kansas City shaded Baltimore 5-4 in 10 innings. Their second game was rained out. Cleveland won the first from Washington 4-2 on Wynn Hawkins' four-hitter but the Senators took the second 4-3 on Gene Woodling's hitting.

SPAHN ROUTED

The Reds exploded against Spahn in the eighth and ninth, just when the 40-year-old lefty appeared headed for his fourth victory and 53rd shutout. Leading 4-0 with one out, Spahn gave up homers to Robinson and Post before he retired Gene Freese. In the ninth the first two up, Cardenas and Coleman applied the crusher.

O'Toole left 12 Braves on the bases and struck out seven while winning his third game.

Koufax ran into trouble in the seventh at Pittsburgh but Sherry bailed him out in fine style. Witt retired the first 16 Dodgers before throwing up a hime run ball to Neal in the sixth. Larker hit a two-run homer in the seventh and Frank Howard slammed his fifth of the year in the same inning.

Broglio had a rough first inning when the Cubs scored two runs but settled down for the rest of the abbrēviated contest. Julian Javier's two-run double in the second was the winner.

Jensen Changes Mind, Rejoins Bosox Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Outfielder Jackie Jensen, who quit baseball for the 1960 season, was due to rejoin the Boston Red Sox today after leaving the club for a week because he was despondent over his slow start this spring.

The one-time most valuable American Leaguer telephoned Bosox vice president Dick O'Connell yesterday from Las Vegas, Nev., saying he was driving here to rejoin the team.

Manager Mike Higgins, hearing the former football star had decided to return, said he would be welcomed back.

"Other guys have jumped teams before for other reasons, Jackie just made a mistake," Higgins said.

"He's done a lot for this team in the past," added pitcher Mike Fornieles, "and he can do it again."

The Red Sox arrived here by plane from Minneapolis late last night. Jensen was due to arrive at about the same time, but sources said he was staying overnight with friends.

Jensen, whose salary is reported to be about $40,000 a year, jumped the team April 29 in Cleveland without any explanation.

3 Tie For Honors In Novato Golf

Phil Nathan, Jim Carroll and Chuck Bennett each carded a net score of 65 yesterday to tie for first place in the Indian Valley Men's Golf Club's "Ladder Sweepstakes" on the Novato course.

Fred Peixoto and Fred Volz tied for runner-up honors with 66 and Nort Dawson came in with 67.

On Saturday Doug Salley won the club's "Calloway Sweeps" with a net 71, followed by Ed Jeppesen 72, D. D. Altermatt 73 and Nathan, Hank Brossier and Al Kazakoff each with 74.

Stockton Captures Palo Alto Tennis

Ten-year-old Dickie Stockton of San Rafael yesterday won the Palo Alto Tennis Club's championship in the 11 and under age division with a 7-5, 6-0 victory over Erik Dillen.

Young Stockton's bid for the 13 and under title was spoiled, however, as he lost to Steve Turpen in the finals.

Teacher Wins Lefty Golf Championship

APTOS BEACH (AP)—Jimmy Kardas, Pebble Beach school teacher and former Stanford Golfer, is the left-handed golf champion for northern California for 1961. He scored 76-72—148 in the southpaw tournament held on Aptos Beach course over the weekend.

3 Marin Archers Qualify For Cal Sectional Meet

Three Marin County archers yesterday qualified for the California Sectional Archery Championships to be held later this months in Stockton.

They are Ebert Jensen of Terra Linda, John Ames of Santa Venetia and Al Hoffer of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Yesterday's qualifying competition was held on the So-Ea-Ba range near Castro Valley in Alameda County.

LaStarza In S.F. Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Roland La Starza, hoping to battle his way back from the small clubs to the big time he once knew, meets Monroe Ratliff of San Diego tonight in his third bout of a comeback bid.

The personable native of the Bronx, now pushing 34, returned to the ring last year and won two fights by knockouts after he retired in 1958.

The hard-socking Ratliff is regarded as a spoiler for this 10-rounder. In his last appearance at Kezar Pavilion, scene of tonight's fight, he decked the up-and-coming Kirk Barrow before losing a decision.

La Starza, who has a record of 57 wins and eight losses, was stopped in the 11th round of a world title fight by Rocky Marciano in 1953. "The Rock" had decisioned La Starza three years earlier.

Roland harbors ambitions to become a TV personality and also says that he is pointing for a world title in his comeback shot.

"I still have a name in this business and I might move up rather fast if I won some good bouts in good fashion," he says.

SOMEBODY UP THERE LIKES ME—BROGLIO

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Pitcher Ernie Broglio of the St. Louis Cardinals has good reason to believe "somebody up there" likes him.

Broglio has scored two victories this season—both in games that were cut short by rain. He beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-0, in a five-inning game on April 15 and topped the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, yesterday in another five-inning game.

San Diego Sloop Wins Yacht Race

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI) — The 125-mile Newport Beach to Ensenada yacht race passed into history today with the 46-foot sloop Cholita — 14th to cross the finish line—the winner of the 14th annual event.

Winners in the race—which this year saw a record 400 entries — are decided by class, computed times and handicaps.

The winning sloop is owned by Keith Lister, San Diego.

The 67-foot yawl Chubasco, owned by Arnold D. Haskell of Newport Beach, was the first boat across the finish line here Friday. The race began on Thursday.

Streaking Giants Take On World Champions Tonight

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants have added another item to their list of unbelievable feats for 1961.

Alvin Dark's National League leaders were outhit yesterday —yet won by a 7-0 shutout over Philadelphia. The Giants stranded just one baserunner in a combination of home run power, basepath hustling and sharp fielding.

Philadelphia, meanwhile, abandoned six men. In one inning the Phils drilled three straight singles but failed to advance a runner to third.

Broadway Billy Loes went the route for his third victory against one loss. He tossed a slick seven-hitter while striking out seven, walking none, and equaling his total victory record for last season.

Veteran Robin Roberts, off to the worst start of his long baseball career, dropped his fifth straight without a victory.

But the moment of truth may be near for the Candlestickers, who have won four straight, eight of 10 on the road, and 10 of their last 13. The Giants must face the defending world champion Pittsburgh Pirates for three games beginning tonight.

Jack Sanford (1-2) gets the call for San Francisco. He'll face Harvey Haddix (1-0) of the Pirates, who trail the Giants by two and one-half games in third place. San Francisco leads second place Cincinnati by two.

Some heads-up baserunning by Willie Mays made it 2-0 in the fourth. Mays walked, stole second and kept right on going to third when the ball skipped into center field. Willie then scored on the first of two sacrifice flies by Willie McCovey.

That was enough for the Giant victory. But San Francisco really unloaded on Roberts, who tossed a three-hitter for the first five frames, in the sixth.

Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller singled and the runners went to second and third when Johnny Callison's throw from the outfield hit Davenport. Mays was walked intentionally to fill the bases. McCovey hit his second sacrifice fly. Then Cepeda bombed one of the longest homers ever hit in Connie Mack Stadium to empty the bases.

The blow, Cepeda's fifth this year, landed atop the left field second-deck bleacher roof. It probably would have traveled 450 feet if not halted by a soft-drink sign.

Bailey's first roundtripper of the season as a Giant came during the seventh to complete the scoring.

Alou saved Loes' shutout in the fourth when the Phils opened with three straight singles. The Giant right fielder cut down Bob Sadowski going from first to third with a perfect no-bounce heave after the second base blow. Loes got out of the frame by getting Clay Dalrymple to pop, and striking out Pancho Herrera.

Philadelphia outhit San Francisco, 7-6. But all but one of the Phils' safeties were singles. It marked Philadelphia's sixth straight loss.

Smith Key Player In Trade That Sent Relief Ace Farrell To. L.A.

HANLEY

PITTSBURGH—Despite what anyone else says about the Dick Farrell trade, the Phillies are happy and so are the Dodgers, at least the managements of both clubs.

There has been considerable comment here in the east. Quite a few players believe the Phillies should have gotten more talent for Farrell.

"You'd think they'd have gotten one outstanding player for Farrell," was the reaction of one player.

There were Phillies with the same idea—not all of them but some. Other ex-teammates of Farrell foresaw Don Demeter and Charlie Smith, the two Dodgers swapped for Farrell and Joe Koppe, blossoming into stardom by getting the chance to play regularly.

Even with the opportunity of playing regularly, Demeter and Smith can't be overjoyed at being traded from a pennant contender to the tailend club. But it is just the reverse with Farrell who, like everyone else, knew the Braves and Dodgers both were dickering for him since the 1961 season opened.

"It's a great break for me," said the 27-year-old right hander who long has been regarded as one of the best relievers in baseball. He was so delighted with the deal that even the thought of relieving in Los Angeles Coliseum, where the left screen is 251 feet from home plate, didn't bother him. "I can't worry about that," he said.

The incident that prompted Dodger general manager Buzzy Bavasi to give Philly general manager John Quinn what he wanted for Farrell occurred last Thursday in Milwaukee. Gil Hodges had just homered in the 10th to put the Dodgers in a 6-5 lead but that was nullified when Joe Adcock rapped a grand slam homer off Jim Golden several minutes later.

Bavasi, burning at losing that tight game and envisioning similar future losses in late innings because of a bullpen that no longer has Ed Roebuck, immediately got Quinn on the telephone.

"It was completed all of a sudden," said Quinn. "Bavasi gave me a list of eight or nine Los Angeles players. I told him I liked Demeter but also liked Smith who wasn't listed. 'Put his name next to Demeter's and you've got yourself a deal for Farrel and Koppe.' Buzzy agreed. And that's the way it happened."

Philly manager Gene Mauch reported he was under the impression, and so was Quinn, that Smith was a Dodger untouchable.

"The last time we were on the coast, the Los Angeles people told me not even to bother mentioning the third baseman in connection with a trade. They told me it would be just a waste of time."

With Larry Sherry and Farrell now sharing the late inning stopper roles, the Dodgers more than ever are the "team to beat," as Charlie Dressen and many others labelled them in the pre-season picks.

WHEE, WILLIE—Willie Mays slides safely into third base under the tag of Philadelphia's Bob Sadowski in some fancy fourth inning baserunning for the Giants yesterday. Willie stole second and went to third on a throwing error as Giants romped to a 7-0 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Jensen, who was hitting just .130 when he dramatically left the team, later explained he quit because he didn't feel he was doing the Red Sox any good.

Hey, Giants! Beware, Those Redlegs Are Running Fast

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Freddie Hutchinson it is either a feast or a famine. His Cincinnati Reds jumped away fast, won five of their first seven games and led the National League. They they lost eight straight and dropped to the cellar. Now they have won eight in a row and are running second, only two games off the pace.

Cincinnati turned on the home run power when four out of five batters—Frank Robinson, Wally Post, Leo Cardenas and Gordy Coleman—hit Warren Spahn for homers in a 5-4 first game victory over Milwaukee. Jim O'Toole then shut out the Braves with five hits 4-0 in the second game.

Billy Loes, the unpredictable one, pitched the league-leading San Francisco Giants to a 7-0 triumph, holding the Philadelphia Phillies to seven hits. Loes, a relief man when he was traded to the Giants by Baltimore in November, 1959, now has a 3-1 record as a starter and a 3.50 earned run average. A year ago his ERA was 12.00.

Derby Champion From Wrong Side Of Tracks

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UPI)—The hardboots were reluctant to admit it but a game little colt named Carry Back from the wrong side of the tracks ruled the turf world today as the 1961 Kentucky Derby champion.

Carry Back, sired by Saggy and out of Joppy, a $300 mare, already has left the scene of his brilliant three - quarter length victory in the first of the triple crown classics. He was sent back east to get ready for the Preakness at Pimlico May 20.

Owner Jack Price was jubilant that Carry Back came through with flying colors for he had confidently predicted the colt's victory throughout the hectic pre-Derby days.

But Price admitted Carry Back "scared the living daylight out of me" before a dramatic stretch run carried his colt to victory in America's greatest horse race.

Four of the horses Carry Back beat so decisively are going to be sent againast him again in two weeks at Pimlico —Dr. Miller, who left on the same plane; Crozier, who now has been narrowly beaten four times by Carry Back, Sherlock and Globemaster.

"At the three-quarter pole I thought we were dead," Price admitted. "At the quarter pole I thought we might get third. At the eighth pole I thought we would take second. At the sixteenth pole I had hopes we could win."

Carry Back beat Crozier by the widest margin of their duels in the Derby. He had beaten him by a half length and a head twice — in the Everglades Stakes, the Flamingo and the Florida Derby during the winter.

RESPECTS CROZIER

Nevertheless, Price has great respect for Crozier.

"It would be all right with me if he went some place where I wasn't," he said.

Chuck Parke, trainer of Crozier, said he felt the same way about Carry Back but added, "you have to go where the races are. Crozier is a dead game little horse but that other colt is dead game too."

Karlsrud Sparks Cal In 'Big Meet'

Speedster Bob Karlsrud sparked the California Bears to a 69-62 win over the Stanford track and field team Saturday in the 66th "Big Meet" between the two teams.

Karlsrud won the 440 in 48.9, the 220 in 22.1, and came through with a clutch anchor lap in the mile relay to give the Bears their fifth consecutive dual victory over the Indians.

Two meet records fell. Dave Weill of Stanford threw the discus 172 feet, 3½ inches to better Fred Peters' 1957 toss for Stanford of 170 feet, 8 inches. Alan Gaylor of Cal won the two mile in 9:15-7, knocking 2.4 seconds off the mark set by Maurie Graves of the Indians in 1958.

Unknown Bowler Wows ABC Masters

Alvin "Bud" Horn Jr. rolled the first perfect game in the 11-year history of the meet yesterday in his eighth and final qualifying game. The 300 score put Horn into the finals with a 1648 total.

Masters play ends Wednesday.

October Dates Planned For '64 Olympic Games

TOKYO (AP)—The Olympic organizing committee today unanimously decided to seek the dates of Oct. 11-25 for the 1946 Tokyo games.

The period, usually ideal weather, follows Japan's typhoon season.

The October dates, arrived at after considerable discussion and some confusion, will be submitted for final approval next month to the International Olympic Committee at its Athens meeting.

LAS VEGAS—$10,000

Snead Oldest To Win PGA Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sam Snead, golf's all-time leading money winner and the oldest man in the nation to win a major tournament, heads for the West Virginia hills today, richer by $10,000.

Snead, who'll be 49 May 27, finally added the Tournament of Champions to his roll of victories, breezing in yesterday by seven strokes.

After a shaky start, Snead put on the pressure in the final nine holes to shoot a three-under-par 69 and a 72-hole score of 273, 15 blows under par.

In the process he matched the early morning high wind and nearly blew his nearest challenger, veteran Tommy Bolt, off the course.

Tommy hung on to take second place and $5,000 with a 71 for 280.

Bill Collins' 69 gave him 281 and $3,000. Bob Rosburg, with 68 for 282, and Doug Ford, with a 73 for 283 were next in line.

Jay Hebert, the leader in the first two rounds, shot a 73 for 284 and a tie with South Africa's Gary Player and Canada's Stan Leonard. Each had a 74.

PALMER FAR BACK

Snead's victory erased three inglorious tries in this event.

His next appearance will be in two weeks at the Sam Snead Golf Festival at White Sulphur Springs, an affair named in his honor. He has won it five times.

PGA field secretary Jim Caquin checked the records. He could find no older winner of a major PGA tournament. Ted Ray won the U.S. Open in 1920 when he was 43. Stan Leonard won the Western Open last year at 46. Dutch Harrison in 1958 was about nine weeks shy of his 48th birthday when he won the Tijuana, Mexico, open.

Tam Sweeps Swim Titles; 10 Marin Records Broken

Redwood Ace Chambers Sets Two League Marks

Tamalpais High School's athletic flagstaff had two more pennants flying today following Saturday's Marin Athletic League swimming and diving finals in which the Mill Valley school swept both Class A and Class B championships.

The record-shattering day—10 league marks were broken—saw Tam score 90½ points in Class A to 86½ for Redwood, 46 for San Rafael and 41 for Drake. In Class B, Tam was the surprise winner with 99 points to 84 for favored Drake, 42½ for San Rafael and 26½ for Redwood.

As expected in the varsity, Tam was the team winner, but most of the individual fame was placed on the broad shoulders of Redwood's Dick Chambers who smashed two league records in the 400-yard freestyle and the 200 free. Chambers' time of 4:18.7 in the heats broke his own mark of 4:18.9 set last year. He broke the "Two Minute Barrier" with a 1:59.7 clocking in the 200 free for another mark. The former standard was 2:05.6. Both marks were established in morning heats.

Redwood, Tam and San Rafael athletes accounted for the three other Class A records. Redwood's Ken Frost won the 100 breast in 1:06.2 to break his own league record of 1:07.8.

GRACEFUL CHAMP

And San Rafael's graceful Jim Flanagan accumulated 173.95 points for a record in the diving event.

Another San Rafael star, Lou Yuvan, picked up a "double" by winning the 50 and 100 freestyle titles in the best races of the day. In the 50 he nipped by Tam's McCreary by an elelash in 24.5 and in the century it was another eyelash margin over Tam's Jack Mosher.

The first four places in each event qualified for next Saturday's sub-North Coast Section meet at Tam.

Class B laurels went mainly to Drake's Terry Politi as he set two league records. He did the 100 back in 1:06.0 and the 100 individual medley in 1:06.6.

Drake's Bill Kelsey picked up a record in the 100 free and the Drake 200 medley relay team gave the San Anselmo school its fourth Class B record of the day.

Redwood's Lawrence Herst swam the 50 free in the record time of 25.4 seconds.

Jack 'No-Hit' Sovereign Prep Of The Week, Natch

Selecting the Marin Athletic League's "Prep of the Week" for last Friday's performance was easy.

San Rafael's Jack Sovereign stood head and shoulders above the rest of the athletes for his brilliant no-hit, no-run 7-0 victory over the strong Drake Pirates. It was Sovereign's fourth league victory and kept the Bulldogs tied with Tamalpais for the league lead.

Sovereign now has 39 strikeouts in 24 league innings and has issued just one earned run in all that time on the mound.

He will receive a "Prep of the Week" certificate from the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM.

Meanwhile, the hot baseball race resumes tomorrow with Tamalpais facing a dangerous assignment against those hit-hungry Pirates at Drake's diamond. Now two games behind the co-leaders with a 3-3 record, the defending champion Pirates will be fighting mad to start knocking off the leaders.

San Rafael, too, expects a rugged afternoon against those spoiler Marin Catholic Wildcats who have won their last three games, each by a one-run margin, including a 4-3 upset over Drake.

Tomorrow's other game matches Novato and Redwood at San Rafael's Albert Field. That game will be broadcast by Radio KTIM. All games will start at 4 p.m.

Derby Champion From Wrong Side Of Tracks

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UPI)—The hardboots were reluctant to admit it but a game little colt named Carry Back from the wrong side of the tracks ruled the turf world today as the 1961 Kentucky Derby champion.

Carry Back, sired by Saggy and out of Joppy, a $300 mare, already has left the scene of his brilliant three - quarter length victory in the first of the triple crown classics. He was sent back east to get ready for the Preakness at Pimlico May 20.

Owner Jack Price was jubilant that Carry Back came through with flying colors for he had confidently predicted the colt's victory throughout the hectic pre-Derby days.

But Price admitted Carry Back "scared the living daylight out of me" before a dramatic stretch run carried his colt to victory in America's greatest horse race.

Four of the horses Carry Back beat so decisively are going to be sent againast him again in two weeks at Pimlico —Dr. Miller, who left on the same plane; Crozier, who now has been narrowly beaten four times by Carry Back, Sherlock and Globemaster.

"At the three-quarter pole I thought we were dead," Price admitted. "At the quarter pole I thought we might get third. At the eighth pole I thought we would take second. At the sixteenth pole I had hopes we could win."

Carry Back beat Crozier by the widest margin of their duels in the Derby. He had beaten him by a half length and a head twice — in the Everglades Stakes, the Flamingo and the Florida Derby during the winter.

RESPECTS CROZIER

Nevertheless, Price has great respect for Crozier.

"It would be all right with me if he went some place where I wasn't," he said.

Chuck Parke, trainer of Crozier, said he felt the same way about Carry Back but added, "you have to go where the races are. Crozier is a dead game little horse but that other colt is dead game too."

Karlsrud Sparks Cal In 'Big Meet'

Speedster Bob Karlsrud sparked the California Bears to a 69-62 win over the Stanford track and field team Saturday in the 66th "Big Meet" between the two teams.

Karlsrud won the 440 in 48.9, the 220 in 22.1, and came through with a clutch anchor lap in the mile relay to give the Bears their fifth consecutive dual victory over the Indians.

Two meet records fell. Dave Weill of Stanford threw the discus 172 feet, 3½ inches to better Fred Peters' 1957 toss for Stanford of 170 feet, 8 inches. Alan Gaylor of Cal won the two mile in 9:15-7, knocking 2.4 seconds off the mark set by Maurie Graves of the Indians in 1958.

Unknown Bowler Wows ABC Masters

Alvin "Bud" Horn Jr. rolled the first perfect game in the 11-year history of the meet yesterday in his eighth and final qualifying game. The 300 score put Horn into the finals with a 1648 total.

Masters play ends Wednesday.

October Dates Planned For '64 Olympic Games

TOKYO (AP)—The Olympic organizing committee today unanimously decided to seek the dates of Oct. 11-25 for the 1946 Tokyo games.

The period, usually ideal weather, follows Japan's typhoon season.

The October dates, arrived at after considerable discussion and some confusion, will be submitted for final approval next month to the International Olympic Committee at its Athens meeting.

LAS VEGAS—$10,000

Snead Oldest To Win PGA Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sam Snead, golf's all-time leading money winner and the oldest man in the nation to win a major tournament, heads for the West Virginia hills today, richer by $10,000.

Snead, who'll be 49 May 27, finally added the Tournament of Champions to his roll of victories, breezing in yesterday by seven strokes.

After a shaky start, Snead put on the pressure in the final nine holes to shoot a three-under-par 69 and a 72-hole score of 273, 15 blows under par.

In the process he matched the early morning high wind and nearly blew his nearest challenger, veteran Tommy Bolt, off the course.

Tommy hung on to take second place and $5,000 with a 71 for 280.

Bill Collins' 69 gave him 281 and $3,000. Bob Rosburg, with : 68 for 282, and Doug Ford, with a 73 for 283 were next in line.

Tam Sweeps Swim Titles; 10 Marin Records Broken

Redwood Ace Chambers Sets Two League Marks

Tamalpais High School's athletic flagstaff had two more pennants flying today following Saturday's Marin Athletic League swimming and diving finals in which the Mill Valley school swept both Class A and Class B championships.

The record-shattering day—10 league marks were broken—saw Tam score 90½ points in Class A to 86½ for Redwood, 46 for San Rafael and 41 for Drake. In Class B, Tam was the surprise winner with 99 points to 84 for favored Drake, 42½ for San Rafael and 26½ for Redwood.

As expected in the varsity, Tam was the team winner, but most of the individual fame was placed on the broad shoulders of Redwood's Dick Chambers who smashed two league records in the 400-yard freestyle and the 200 free. Chambers' time of 4:18.7 in the heats broke his own mark of 4:18.9 set last year. He broke the "Two Minute Barrier" with a 1:59.7 clocking in the 200 free for another mark. The former standard was 2:05.6. Both marks were established in morning heats.

Redwood, Tam and San Rafael athletes accounted for the three other Class A records. Redwood's Ken Frost won the 100 breast in 1:06.2 to break his own league record of 1:07.8.

GRACEFUL CHAMP

Another San Rafael star, Lou Yuvan, picked up a "double" by winning the 50 and 100 freestyle titles in the best races of the day. In the 50 he nipped by Tam's McCreary by an elelash in 24.5 and in the century it was another eyelash margin over Tam's Jack Mosher.

The first four places in each event qualified for next Saturday's sub-North Coast Section meet at Tam.

Class B laurels went mainly to Drake's Terry Politi as he set two league records. He did the 100 back in 1:06.0 and the 100 individual medley in 1:06.6.

Drake's Bill Kelsey picked up a record in the 100 free and the Drake 200 medley relay team gave the San Anselmo school its fourth Class B record of the day.

Redwood's Lawrence Herst swam the 50 free in the record time of 25.4 seconds.

Jack 'No-Hit' Sovereign Prep Of The Week, Natch

Selecting the Marin Athletic League's "Prep of the Week" for last Friday's performance was easy.

San Rafael's Jack Sovereign stood head and shoulders above the rest of the athletes for his brilliant no-hit, no-run 7-0 victory over the strong Drake Pirates. It was Sovereign's fourth league victory and kept the Bulldogs tied with Tamalpais for the league lead.

Sovereign now has 39 strikeouts in 24 league innings and has issued just one earned run in all that time on the mound.

He will receive a "Prep of the Week" certificate from the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM.

Meanwhile, the hot baseball race resumes tomorrow with Tamalpais facing a dangerous assignment against those hit-hungry Pirates at Drake's diamond. Now two games behind the co-leaders with a 3-3 record, the defending champion Pirates will be fighting mad to start knocking off the leaders.

San Rafael, too, expects a rugged afternoon against those spoiler Marin Catholic Wildcats who have won their last three games, each by a one-run margin, including a 4-3 upset over Drake.

Tomorrow's other game matches Novato and Redwood at San Rafael's Albert Field. That game will be broadcast by Radio KTIM. All games will start at 4 p.m.

Cal Crew Sets Mark

The Bears rowed the 2¾ mile Lake Washington course in 14 minutes Saturday, beating the Huskies by less than a length. The old mark was 14: 07.1, set by Washington in 1958.

Veteran Radio News Announcer Moving Into Marin Real Estate

Veteran KFRC radio news announcer Dave Scofield has entered the Marin County real estate field and is now a member of the staff of James Gallagher Realty in San Anselmo.

Known also as the "Voice of Kezar Stadium" for his public address work at the Forty-niner football games in San Francisco, Scofield will keep up this activity, and this fall plans to bring a showing of Forty-niner highlight films to Marin County service clubs.

"I've sold commercials and worked before the public for 23 years," he says, "and believe I can carry this experience to advantage into real estate which has always interested me."

MOZART KAUFMAN who is pioneering the facelifting of downtown San Anselmo by extending his department store on San Anselmo Avenue across the creek, saw the pouring of the first concrete for his bulkheads last week. By the middle of this month he will be driven out of his office quarters at the rear of the store for more of the same.

Dramatic phase of the construction project is about a month away when huge 24-inch pre-stressed concrete beams will be laid side by side across the 50-foot span, forming the floor for the building extension, probably the first example of this type of construction in the county. Another tier will be added later for the floor of the mezzanine, and still another for the roof, eliminating the need for intermediate supports inside the store.

The whole thing is being watched with cat-like curiosity by neighboring property owners who in due time will fall in line and bridge across the entire creek length in some similar manner to the Greyhound bus property north of Tunstead Avenue which will be converted into another street paralleling Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Kaufman admits that completion of all of this may be stretched out over another 10 years or more but he needs the extra 6,300 square feet to spread out his stocks, and swears it will be available for the December shopping days preceding next Christmas. He will still keep his men's store on the other side of San Anselmo Avenue.

From an engineering standpoint there will be less danger from a flooded creek during stormy weather than there is now. Flooring is well above the flood level of 1955 winter's rise, and elimination of trees and catch-alls for debris will allow easier passage of the water.

Strangely enough, there has been no opposition by beauty lovers bemoaning the forthcoming extinction of rustic charm of the open creek and its bordering trees. Everyone seems agreed that a far more attractive and practical downtown San Anselmo will result from the change.

SHOE STORE SALES of women's handbags have been climbing steadily over the past 10 years. Estimates are that 18 or 19 per cent of retail handbag sales are being made in shoe stores throughout the country.

On the average, handbags account for about 10 per cent of a shoe store's annual volume. Irving Chapman of Chapman's Shoes, San Rafael, finds his own percentage is slightly higher.

There's no mystery, he says. It's all because women coordinate so many other accessories at the time they dress up their feet—particularly in high-fashioned colors. Some shoes would not be salable without matching equipment.

Why Some Sick People Like It That Way

NEW YORK (UPI)—When told by his doctor he was recovered from his illness and could leave the hospital the patient raged indignantly and bellowed he was being "kicked out like a stepchild."

Under the same cirmustances another patient developed fever. Yet another got a stuffy nose as though he was coming down with something. There were no apparent reasons either for fever or inflamed nasal membranes.

IN THE MIND

Thus science steadily learns more and more about the abilities of the mind to sicken the body and keep it that way—"psychosomatics." It has new evidence that some sick people don't want to get well.

Commenting on the new evidence Dr. Franklin G. Ebaugh, emeritus professor of psychiatry at the University of Colorado, said any illness serious enough to put a person in a hospital threatened the array of emotional compensations which add up to a stable personality.

We all have needs to be dependent on others. In human beings there is a tendency to move backward toward childhood during a debilitating illness, Ebaugh said.

"During the period of illness, the patient cannot cope with his daily environment and relies on the care administered by other people," he continued, and that is what does it. Furthermore, he suffers injury to his self-confidence.

EMOTIONAL PROFIT

As the result the recovered patient "faces a measure of demand for personality reintegration" when he is discharged from a hospital.

Ebaugh was commenting on a report of Drs. Stanley M. Kaplan and George C. Curtis on their experiences with the patients in a psychosomatic ward of the Cincinnati General Hospital.

They are hospitalized for longer periods than is usual for such illnesses, so research scientists can study the connections between the hidden or half-hidden emotions of their minds and illnesses of their bodies. Kaplan and Curtis reported that one half of these patients resented and even resisted being discharged as well.

But they argued that what these patients felt upon being pronounced well and able to go it alone, was felt by most if not all hospitalized patients in some degree.

Hub Planning Commissioner Is Resigning

Eugene Robinson, San Anselmo planning commissioner for the past eight years, is resigning effective this month.

His letter of resignation will be taken up at the San Anselmo City Council meeting, set for 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

Robinson declined to comment on the reason for his quitting the post. He said the reason is stated in his letter. Robinson's resignation is the third this year. Mrs. Mary Donnelly and Lee Busolo resigned earlier.

Other items on tomorrow night's council agenda include the following:

1. A public hearing on a rezoning request from Watkin and Sibbald for property on Sycamore Avenue near Bridge Avenue. The request is for apartment zoning.

2. Presentation of a suggested tree ordinance by the Chamber of Commerce.

3. A report on the library board's plan for issuing books while the library is closed for expansion.

4. Request by the San Anselmo school district to have the city abandon Kensington Road between Ross and Woodland Avenues.

Utility District To Build Main

Plans for constructing a 2,000 foot, four-inch main from Bolinas to the Bolinas Elementary School were made Saturday night by the directors of the Bolinas Public Utility District, according to Sherman K. Smith, chairman.

The district will use its own crew and some of its own materials for the main, so no cost estimate could be made, Smith said. The district plans to complete the main within six weeks.

Endorsement Sought For Apartment

Architectural approval of a 20-unit apartment house on Canal Street will be up for consideration of the San Rafael Planning Commission when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the council chambers of the city hall.

James Bowler is asking for architectural approval for the apartment house.

The commission will also consider a six-lot subdivision at Fairhills Drive and Oakmont Avenue as requested by Lloyd Grandi. The map of this subdivision was approved Feb. 28, contingent on the dedication of a 30-foot right-of-way.

Union Oil Company is asking for a use permit and architectural approval for a service station at the southeast corner of Belvedere Street and Medway Road.

Carlisle Rickards seeks final architectural approval for a supermarket and six retail stores at the southwest corner of Belvedere and Vivian Streets. This was held over from the previous meeting pending submitting of elevation plans.

Candlelight Ball On Record— Another Outstanding Success

The happy groups that wound their way to the Meadow Club for Saturday's Candlelight Ball were beguiled and bemused by the charm and elegance of the springtime decor. Flying in the face of the number 13th ball and fickle May weather, the party went on record as another outstanding success for the Social Service Auxiliary.

Again the marvelous hues of pink and magenta played the leading role but hand wrought gold antiqued sconces added a distinguished flair and the conversation pieces were the fetching gold bird cages spilling over with dozens of volunteer made blossoms. These disguised the overhead lights in the ballroom and made for a most memorable evening of "Pink Shadows."

And the hues and moods of spring and summer were recaptured by a bevy of lovely gowns. Most of them were short but ball chairman Mrs. Gus Niederholzer chose a simple sheath style for her long length gown of oriental printed silk. The Niederholzers took time out for receiving line duties along with the George Geramonis (Agnes in kelly green satin) the John De Marias' (Gert in raspberry brocade) Bee (white and many tiered organdy) and Mert Hipsley and the Roger Yores (a Picasso print of lavender tones, Mickey's choice).

Some of the early arrivals were coming on from the large cocktail party co-hosted earlier by the Yores and Hipsleys, Col. and Mrs. Jack Howard, Leo and Virginia (mint green chiffon) Strauss, the Al Nathes (Eleanor in cloud pink) the Alfred Kuehls, the Louis Pomettas (looking forward to a June trip to the Islands (Hawaiian) and a three week stay with Col. and Mrs. Walter Warren McCarthy. They will Lurline over and back and son Micheal will fly back at a later date) and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Haswell (Gloria looking well after the very recent arrival of a second son, John Manning Haswell).

FROM THE CITY

And still busy with reservations were the Fred Acciaris (Evelyn's gown subtle tones of pink, short and chiffon) met their guests over from San Francisco, the William Del Montes, John Tabers and Ed Milanis. They lined up later from the many coursed buffet with the Arthur Fays, the Jack Blumenfelds (Jeannie in black chiffon trimmed with black ostrich feathers) and the Paul Picarts (Kay in a floral print).

Soft lights from the tall pink tapers and the incredibly real looking Auxiliary made magnolia centerpieces won the unanimous approval of all. A large group seen lingering over black coffee, the Joseph Wilners (Margaret in jade green), the Frank Walshes (Ethel in black lace), Capt. and Mrs. Harold Roberts (Lolly in powder blue lace) and Dr. and Mrs. I. N. Tucker (Betty in a rose print sheath). The John Curtins (tiny black polka dots on Barbara's sheer) and their Walnut Grove guests Fred and Josephine Meyer and Helen and Myron Brown.

And all the while (until 2 a.m.) there was dancing. At midnight the Champagne Waltz contest began. Master of ceremonies was Roger Garety (Bonnie in moss green chiffon). They had been earlier guests of Milton and Mary Schwartz as had the Ralph Crockers (Patty in pink), the Warren Wedekinds and Roy Vallerinos.

FIRST PRIZE

Magnolias were given to winners of the three rounds of the contest. The Henry Skinners (Ethel in lavender chiffon), the Robert Vanuccis. . . Mrs. Vanucci in tangerine chiffon and William and Bruna Zavoskys assisted the Garetys and George Geramonis in the judging. And when the waltzing was over the Leavitt Olds (Ava in a long length gown of pink) danced on to the lingering strains . . . as did the Charles Helbigs (Shennie in white satin) and their guests Fred and Ruth Keast who have just returned from a 14 months trip around the world which included a stopover in Peru to visit their son who is in government service there, and Mr. Kenneth Glaser and Miss Eullale Fuller; also Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sullins (Jean in long length white) and their guests the E. W. Woodwards and Jean's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Grammiter from Menlo Park and from the city the James Hoeglers . . . and the Thomas Mellons with their friends the Marios Campis from San Francisco and Judge and Mrs. Charles McGoldrick of Santa Rosa, Pat and Dick Jackson (just back from a weeks trip to Palm Springs) and family friends of the Auxiliary's director Rev. John O'Hare and the Messrs. and Mesdames Edwin Callans, John Sullivans, Kenneth Eatons and Michael McAuliffe, all of San Francisco.

St. Raphael's Guild Plans Installation

The May meeting of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. David Vattuone will preside at a short business meeting which will be followed by the installation of new officers in the Mission Chapel.

Rev. Richard P. Knapp will install the following officers for the coming school year. President, Mrs. Duane Snider; first vice president, Mrs. Dominic Pensabene; second vice president, Mrs. Roger Garety; recording secretary, Mrs. Michael J. Costello; treasurer, Mrs. Richard J. Krugman; financial secretary, Mrs. John Futscher; auditor, Mrs. Joseph N. Cotta.

Keep Cereals Fresh

Aluminum foil bags that keep cereals fresh are excellent to use for storing or freezing sandwiches and cookies.

WCTU Meet Tomorrow

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Roy Lindberg, 824 E Street, San Rafael. Business session begins at 10 o'clock.

The subject to be discussed is: "Doors to Family Life."

Mrs. H. R. Soderstrom will present the devotion. Mrs. Donald Stewart will review two chapters from our study book: "What Alcohol Is and What It Does." President, Mrs. Leslie Vice will give a report on the WCTU Institute held at Mt. Hermon in April.

Branson Lists Dates For Play

May 13 and 14 are the dates set for the two productions of "Night Must Fall," by Emlyn Williams, to be given by the "Phantasticks" of the Katharine Branson School in the gymnasium at 8 p.m.

The "Phantasticks," one of Branson's oldest clubs, received a sudden growth spurt many years ago when the experienced Miss Marguerite Bernard became its directress. Since then, the group has become known for its professional-amateur productions of well-known plays. The club manages to purchase its properties and stage equipment without the aid of the school, and enthusiasm runs high among the members.

This year Georgia Kraus stars as Dan, a very appealing murderer, and Agnes Cowles portrays old Mrs. Brandon. The part of Mrs. Brandon's niece, Olivia, is played by Marcy Greene. Shana Goss is Hubert Laurie, and Joe-Anne Davis portrays Inspector Belsize. Other members of the cast include Helen Berggruen, Mary Hall, Meg Mery, and Martha Warner.

The men's parts are presented very convincingly, and the predictions for "Night Must Fall" are most favorable. Tickets are available upon enterance at the door.

Marin Terrace P-TA To Install

Mrs. E. J. Ross, outgoing president, has announced that the "Pony" Blue Birds from the Marin Terrace third grade will present a play written and directed by Richard Dawe.

West End P-TA To See Film

The West End School Parent-Teachers Association will see the Point Reyes National Seashore film, "An Island in Time," at its meeting at 2:15 p.m. Thursday in the Kindergarten room of the school.

Girl Scout Troop No. 295, led by Mrs. George Mitchell, will perform the flag ceremony. A business session will preceed the film viewing. Hostesses serving refreshments will be kindergarten and first grade mothers. A baby sitter will be provided.

Dr. J. P. Gutstadt Will Address Coleman P-TA

"Mental Health — How to Recognize Problems Early, How to Correct and Prevent" will be the topic to be discussed by Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt at the PTA meeting at Coleman School on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the kindergarten room.

Dr. Gutstadt is a graduate of Duke University Medical School, served as resident at Oscar Riggs Center in Stockbridge, Mass., and served in the Navy as doctor of psychiatry. He started private practice in San Rafael in 1955. Dr. Gutstadt is a member of the San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institute and a diplomate on the board of psychiatry and neurology.

Mrs. Ralph Markey has been chosen as this year's recipient of the honorary life membership in recognition of her many years of service to the Parent-Teachers Association, both at Coleman School and the San Rafael Council; and for her work with youth groups. She has served in many capacities on the executive board since 1955 and as president in 1958-1959.

READYING ARTICLES for the rummage sale to be held on May 19 and 20 are members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary, from left, Mesdames Stanley Day, Edgar Peterson and William Sturges, chairman. The sale at 1840 Fourth St., San Rafael will be held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Friday, May 19, and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 20. The proceeds will go to the conservation fund. Candlelight Ball On Record— Another Outstanding Success

The happy groups that wound their way to the Meadow Club for Saturday's Candlelight Ball were beguiled and bemused by the charm and elegance of the springtime decor. Flying in the face of the number 13th ball and fickle May weather, the party went on record as another outstanding success for the Social Service Auxiliary.

Again the marvelous hues of pink and magenta played the leading role but hand wrought gold antiqued sconces added a distinguished flair and the conversation pieces were the fetching gold bird cages spilling over with dozens of volunteer made blossoms. These disguised the overhead lights in the ballroom and made for a most memorable evening of "Pink Shadows."

And the hues and moods of spring and summer were recaptured by a bevy of lovely gowns. Most of them were short but ball chairman Mrs. Gus Niederholzer chose a simple sheath style for her long length gown of oriental printed silk. The Niederholzers took time out for receiving line duties along with the George Geramonis (Agnes in kelly green satin) the John De Marias' (Gert in raspberry brocade) Bee (white and many tiered organdy) and Mert Hipsley and the Roger Yores (a Picasso print of lavender tones, Mickey's choice).

Some of the early arrivals were coming on from the large cocktail party co-hosted earlier by the Yores and Hipsleys, Col. and Mrs. Jack Howard, Leo and Virginia (mint green chiffon) Strauss, the Al Nathes (Eleanor in cloud pink) the Alfred Kuehls, the Louis Pomettas (looking forward to a June trip to the Islands (Hawaiian) and a three week stay with Col. and Mrs. Walter Warren McCarthy. They will Lurline over and back and son Micheal will fly back at a later date) and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Haswell (Gloria looking well after the very recent arrival of a second son, John Manning Haswell).

FROM THE CITY

And still busy with reservations were the Fred Acciaris (Evelyn's gown subtle tones of pink, short and chiffon) met their guests over from San Francisco, the William Del Montes, John Tabers and Ed Milanis. They lined up later from the many coursed buffet with the Arthur Fays, the Jack Blumenfelds (Jeannie in black chiffon trimmed with black ostrich feathers) and the Paul Picarts (Kay in a floral print).

Soft lights from the tall pink tapers and the incredibly real looking Auxiliary made magnolia centerpieces won the unanimous approval of all. A large group seen lingering over black coffee, the Joseph Wilners (Margaret in jade green), the Frank Walshes (Ethel in black lace), Capt. and Mrs. Harold Roberts (Lolly in powder blue lace) and Dr. and Mrs. I. N. Tucker (Betty in a rose print sheath). The John Curtins (tiny black polka dots on Barbara's sheer) and their Walnut Grove guests Fred and Josephine Meyer and Helen and Myron Brown.

And all the while (until 2 a.m.) there was dancing. At midnight the Champagne Waltz contest began. Master of ceremonies was Roger Garety (Bonnie in moss green chiffon). They had been earlier guests of Milton and Mary Schwartz as had the Ralph Crockers (Patty in pink), the Warren Wedekinds and Roy Vallerinos.

FIRST PRIZE

Magnolias were given to winners of the three rounds of the contest. The Henry Skinners (Ethel in lavender chiffon), the Robert Vanuccis. . . Mrs. Vanucci in tangerine chiffon and William and Bruna Zavoskys assisted the Garetys and George Geramonis in the judging. And when the waltzing was over the Leavitt Olds (Ava in a long length gown of pink) danced on to the lingering strains . . . as did the Charles Helbigs (Shennie in white satin) and their guests Fred and Ruth Keast who have just returned from a 14 months trip around the world which included a stopover in Peru to visit their son who is in government service there, and Mr. Kenneth Glaser and Miss Eullale Fuller; also Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sullins (Jean in long length white) and their guests the E. W. Woodwards and Jean's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Grammiter from Menlo Park and from the city the James Hoeglers . . . and the Thomas Mellons with their friends the Marios Campis from San Francisco and Judge and Mrs. Charles McGoldrick of Santa Rosa, Pat and Dick Jackson (just back from a weeks trip to Palm Springs) and family friends of the Auxiliary's director Rev. John O'Hare and the Messrs. and Mesdames Edwin Callans, John Sullivans, Kenneth Eatons and Michael McAuliffe, all of San Francisco.

Marin Women

St. Raphael's Guild Plans Installation

The May meeting of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. David Vattuone will preside at a short business meeting which will be followed by the installation of new officers in the Mission Chapel.

Rev. Richard P. Knapp will install the following officers for the coming school year. President, Mrs. Duane Snider; first vice president, Mrs. Dominic Pensabene; second vice president, Mrs. Roger Garety; recording secretary, Mrs. Michael J. Costello; treasurer, Mrs. Richard J. Krugman; financial secretary, Mrs. John Futscher; auditor, Mrs. Joseph N. Cotta.

The following members will be installed as the Board of Directors for the Guild, Mesdames George Epperson, Robert Andrews, Raymond Randolph, John W. Hayes, Raymond Cerutti and David Vattuone.

Keep Cereals Fresh

Aluminum foil bags that keep cereals fresh are excellent to use for storing or freezing sandwiches and cookies.

WCTU Meet Tomorrow

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Roy Lindberg, 824 E Street, San Rafael. Business session begins at 10 o'clock.

The subject to be discussed is: "Doors to Family Life."

Mrs. H. R. Soderstrom will present the devotion. Mrs. Donald Stewart will review two chapters from our study book: "What Alcohol Is and What It Does." President, Mrs. Leslie Vice will give a report on the WCTU Institute held at Mt. Hermon in April.

Branson Lists Dates For Play

May 13 and 14 are the dates set for the two productions of "Night Must Fall," by Emlyn Williams, to be given by the "Phantasticks" of the Katharine Branson School in the gymnasium at 8 p.m.

The "Phantasticks," one of Branson's oldest clubs, received a sudden growth spurt many years ago when the experienced Miss Marguerite Bernard became its directress. Since then, the group has become known for its professional-amateur productions of well-known plays. The club manages to purchase its properties and stage equipment without the aid of the school, and enthusiasm runs high among the members.

This year Georgia Kraus stars as Dan, a very appealing murderer, and Agnes Cowles portrays old Mrs. Brandon. The part of Mrs. Brandon's niece, Olivia, is played by Marcy Greene. Shana Goss is Hubert Laurie, and Joe-Anne Davis portrays Inspector Belsize. Other members of the cast include Helen Berggruen, Mary Hall, Meg Mery, and Martha Warner.

The men's parts are presented very convincingly, and the predictions for "Night Must Fall" are most favorable. Tickets are available upon enterance at the door.

Marin Terrace P-TA To Install

Officers will be installed by Mrs. Edmond Gross, newly elected member of the Mill Valley School District Board of Trustees, at the final meeting of the school year Wednesday of Mill Valley's Marin Terrace P-TA.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at the school.

Officers to be installed are Mesdames Allen D. Toole, president; Stephen Smith, first vice president; Peter Pell, second vice president; Dr. Logan Miles, third vice president; and Mesdames Frederick Field, secretary; Richard Dangers, treasurer; S. H. Anderson, auditor; and John Malich, historian.

Mrs. E. J. Ross, outgoing president, has announced that the "Pony" Blue Birds from the Marin Terrace third grade will present a play written and directed by Richard Dawe.

The cast of the play, based on "Jack and the Beanstalk," will include Susan Dawe, Moira Bennett, Cindy Blake, Charmaine Browning, Joleen Dixon, Nancy Doolittle, Dale Kemp, Sarah Oppenheim, Debra Swango, Emily Weil and Lizanne West.

West End P-TA To See Film

The West End School Parent-Teachers Association will see the Point Reyes National Seashore film, "An Island in Time," at its meeting at 2:15 p.m. Thursday in the Kindergarten room of the school.

Girl Scout Troop No. 295, led by Mrs. George Mitchell, will perform the flag ceremony. A business session will preceed the film viewing. Hostesses serving refreshments will be kindergarten and first grade mothers. A baby sitter will be provided.

"Mental Health — How to Recognize Problems Early, How to Correct and Prevent" will be the topic to be discussed by Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt at the PTA meeting at Coleman School on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the kindergarten room.

Dr. Gutstadt is a graduate of Duke University Medical School, served as resident at Oscar Riggs Center in Stockbridge, Mass., and served in the Navy as doctor of psychiatry. He started private practice in San Rafael in 1955. Dr. Gutstadt is a member of the San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institute and a diplomate on the board of psychiatry and neurology.

Mrs. Ralph Markey has been chosen as this year's recipient of the honorary life membership in recognition of her many years of service to the Parent-Teachers Association, both at Coleman School and the San Rafael Council: and for her work with youth groups. She has served in many capacities on the executive board since 1955 and as president in 1958-1959.

Women Voter Unit Meets

Reports of the four delegates from the Mill Valley League of Women Voters to the recent state convention of the League will be heard tomorrow, May 10 and 12 at the last unit meetings of 1960-61, and each meeting will feature a "Know Your League" discussion led by Mrs. Harold Bjornstrom.

Delegates were Mill Valley League president Mrs. James Good and Mesdames Donald Robinson and Morton K. Rubinstein.

The 10 a.m. meetings will take place tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Stanley Andersen, 12 Somerset Lane, Mill Valley; on May 10 at the home of Mrs. S. I. Hayakawa, 225 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, and on May 12 at the home of Mrs. Edgar Chiswell, 36 Peninsula Road, Belvedere.

AAUW Recent Grads Meet Tomorrow

"Recreation Opportunities for Senior Citizens" will be the topic when Gladys Snyder speaks to the members of the Social and Economic Issues section, American Association of University Women, Marin Branch, at 2 p.m. Thursday, May 11.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Smith in Sausalito. Her co-hostess is Mrs. Marguerite Layton. Anyone wishing to attend the lecture given by Miss Snyder, who is a recreation specialist with the Department of Natural Resources in Sacramento, may contact Mrs. Smith.

'STRIKE UP THE BAND' says Mrs. Leo Strauss who will model at Thursday's Fashions With A View at the Ondine in Sausalito when "The Big Show" will salute the Women's Auxiliary to Big Brothers of San Francisco, Inc., and its star-studded musical review slated at the Alcazar on May 22. The luncheon begins at 12:30. (Independent-Journal photo.)

View Show Will Salute Big Brothers

"Strike up the band" says Fashions With a View from the Ondine on Thursday to introduce "The Big Show"—a star-studded promenade of fashion and fun from a San Francisco store.

What promises to be a very gay day at the Ondine on Thursday is inspired by the Women's Auxiliary to Big Brothers of San Francisco, Inc. and their special star-studded musical revue "The Big Show" at the Alcazar Theater, May 22.

The welcome mat will be rolled out for Mrs. William McNabb, chairman of the recently formed Big Brothers Auxiliary, and J. R. Maddock, Donald R. Davis, and William McNabb, three members of the board of directors for Big Brothers of San Francisco.

As Big Brothers, and a part of Big Brothers of America chartered by Congress as a national charity, these prominent citizens give them time freely to aid, guide and befriend one boy (Little Brother) as he grows to manhood. Big and Little Brothers must be screened, matched and counseled under the supervision of a trained social worker.

Parading on Thursday in "The Big Show" as colorful as a carnival will be Mesdames Leo Strauss, John Willcutt, William Donohoe, John Bellamy Jr. and Yvonne Buchi.

Fashions With a View will strike up the band at 12:30 p.m.! Reservations may be made by calling the Ondine.

Vickie Hoetger Birthday Honoree

A "wet" 13th birthday party was given in honor of Vickie Hoetger Sunday by her parents, the Ralph Hoetgers of Homestead Road in Mill Valley.

An all-day swimming party was held at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera after which dinner was served by Bob's of Marin in the main dining room. The birthday table was done in pink with a large bowl of spring flowers as the centerpiece. Highlight of the dinner was a large birthday cake in the shape of a heart.

AUXILIARY TO HOLD HOUSE TOUR

Greeting the first day of summer with a Mill Valley House Tour, the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary and its branches are scheduling five homes for display on June 21.

Chairmen of the event are Mrs. Walter Zweig, Kentfield, and Mrs. Richard Mayer, San Rafael. Champagne will be served at the John Maybeck-designed Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley from 3 to 5 p.m. Hours of the tour are from 1 to 5 p.m., with the tour starting at the Outdoor Art Club. Transportation will be provided.

Elizabeth Arden fashions and hairstyles will be modeled at the homes, which include table settings and floral decorations as well.

Husbands Dinner Set For Tam Centre Club

It will be Husbands' Night at Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club on Wednesday, May 10, when members of the club entertain their husbands at a dinner. The pot luck dinner, which starts at 6:30 p.m. is under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. L. Shadle. She will be assisted by Mesdames H. F. Calkins, George Gallegos, Clarence Herkner, Andrew M. Komora, William MacKay (club president); Esther McDonald and Cornelius Ven Vuren. A group of members will provide post-dinner entertainments. Mrs. Henry J. Thomas is taking reservations.

Leaving For Thailand

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dodd with their 20 months old son, Stephen, are leaving Mill Valley for Thailand between May 15 and 20. He is a civil engineer and is being sent for two years to Thailand for a powerhouse project at Yan Hee Dam on the Ping River. The Dodds are members of Muir League of the Mill Valley Community Church and the Tandems.

AAUW Section Plans Meeting In Sausalito

The Recent Grad Section of Marin Branch AAUW will hold its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m., May 9, at the home of Mrs. Richard Hunter in Terra Linda with Mrs. John Colombo as cohostess.

The meeting will feature a talk by Dr. Robert Burke of the Marin Association for Mental Health. Dr. Burke will discuss the problems of mental health in Marin County.

Anyone interested in hearing the talk may do so by contacting either Mrs. Richard Hunter or Mrs. Harry Glaze of Terra Linda.

Fence For Pixie Place

New welded wire mesh fencing will be installed at Pixie Place, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, May 9, 10 and 11. The playground will be officially closed on these days, although parents may bring their children to play if they are willing to take the risk.

Auxiliary Meets In Adams Home

Luncheon was served following the business meeting. Marin members who assisted Mrs. Adams included Mesdames John Robinson, Albert Domergue, Peter Fisher, Ray Hoffman, H. Bruce Bernhard, James Crittenden, George Fay, James Lill, Nadine Purdy, Kenneth Shaw, Nathan Smith and Vincent Trembly.

The Auxiliary recently gave $20,000 to the Home for a new, modern kitchen. A trip to the Stanford Convalescent Home is planned for June so that members can preview the new kitchen.

Legal Secretaries Plan Installation

The Marin County Legal Secretaries Association will hold its annual installation of officers Wednesday at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of the Marin Municipal Court will administer the oath of office to Mesdames June Tanforan, president; Jan Steuer, governor; Jeanne Olson, vice president; Lola Holt, treasurer; Dorothy Trenam, recording secretary; Miss Margaret Day, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Elsie Caminita, parliamentarian. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m., preceded by cocktails at 6:30.

Dusting Routine

Line Draperies

If draperies are lined they look better from the outside of the house, they hang better, the fabric is protected from the sun, and they look more professional.

Festivities Open Sailing Society Season

A round of festivities this past weekend opened the 1961 season of the Belvedere Sailing Society.

Friday night a dinner dance was held at the San Francisco Yacht Club. Among those who entertained at cocktails before the party were the Sanford Anixters and the Edwin Sinclairs.

On Sunday the parade of decorated boats started at 1 p.m. and following the judging and awarding of plaques the Society's new building was dedicated. The building, located at Maybridge and Lagoon Roads, replaces the old headquarters which is being torn down.

After the dedication the Wallace Scotts entertained the past commodores who were guests of honor; the Anixters invited the Sun Fleet; the Hamilton Holts the F. J. Fleet; Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Merrill the Lido Fleet and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Harris the Bluejay Fleet. Those who did not belong to a fleet were invited to the Edgar B. Chiswells Jr. Chiswell is the present commodore.

To Attend Reunion

She will go first to Greenfield, Ind., where she will visit her brother, S. P. Corcoran, and her cousin, Dale B. Spencer, publisher of both the daily newspaper "The Greenfield Reporter" and the weekly "The Greenfield Republican."

Mills Mothers Plan Tea On Campus

Mills College Mothers Club will conclude its meetings for the club year with a meeting and tea on Wednesday at the home of the dean of students, Miss Patricia Brauel, 15 Faculty Glade, on the campus, at 2 o'clock, according to an announcement by Mrs. Roy A. Ibach, of Mill Valley, president.

Mrs. Leon Smith, nominating committee chairman, will present a list of candidates for office for next year and election will follow. A check, representing proceeds from the recent successful fashion show, will be presented to the college for student awards and other philanthropies.

A board meeting will also be held at 1 o'clock in Olney Hall preceding the tea and business meeting.

No Senior Club Meet Tomorrow

No Senior Club meeting will be held at the regularly scheduled time tomorrow at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall, according to Mrs. Frederick Fellows, president of the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services which sponsors the club.

You can vary a standard two-egg cake by folding half a cup of shredded coconut into the batter.

View Show Will Salute Big Brothers

"Strike up the band" says Fashions With a View from the Ondine on Thursday to introduce "The Big Show"—a star-studded promenade of fashion and fun from a San Francisco store.

What promises to be a very gay day at the Ondine on Thursday is inspired by the Women's Auxiliary to Big Brothers of San Francisco, Inc. and their special star-studded musical revue "The Big Show" at the Alcazar Theater, May 22.

The welcome mat will be rolled out for Mrs. William McNabb, chairman of the recently formed Big Brothers Auxiliary, and J. R. Maddock, Donald R. Davis, and William McNabb, three members of the board of directors for Big Brothers of San Francisco.

As Big Brothers, and a part of Big Brothers of America chartered by Congress as a national charity, these prominent citizens give them time freely to aid, guide and befriend one boy (Little Brother) as he grows to manhood. Big and Little Brothers must be screened, matched and counseled under the supervision of a trained social worker.

Parading on Thursday in "The Big Show" as colorful as a carnival will be Mesdames Leo Strauss, John Willcutt, William Donohoe, John Bellamy Jr. and Yvonne Buchi.

Fashions With a View will strike up the band at 12:30 p.m.! Reservations may be made by calling the Ondine.

AUXILIARY TO HOLD HOUSE TOUR

Greeting the first day of summer with a Mill Valley House Tour, the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary and its branches are scheduling five homes for display on June 21.

Chairmen of the event are Mrs. Walter Zweig, Kentfield, and Mrs. Richard Mayer, San Rafael. Champagne will be served at the John Maybeck-designed Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley from 3 to 5 p.m. Hours of the tour are from 1 to 5 p.m., with the tour starting at the Outdoor Art Club. Transportation will be provided.

Elizabeth Arden fashions and hairstyles will be modeled at the homes, which include table settings and floral decorations as well.

Husbands Dinner Set For Tam Centre Club

It will be Husbands' Night at Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club on Wednesday, May 10, when members of the club entertain their husbands at a dinner. The pot luck dinner, which starts at 6:30 p.m. is under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. L. Shadle. She will be assisted by Mesdames H. F. Calkins, George Gallegos, Clarence Herkner, Andrew M. Komora, William MacKay (club president); Esther McDonald and Cornelius Ven Vuren. A group of members will provide post-dinner entertainments. Mrs. Henry J. Thomas is taking reservations.

Vickie Hoetger Birthday Honoree

A "wet" 13th birthday party was given in honor of Vickie Hoetger Sunday by her parents, the Ralph Hoetgers of Homestead Road in Mill Valley.

An all-day swimming party was held at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera after which dinner was served by Bob's of Marin in the main dining room. The birthday table was done in pink with a large bowl of spring flowers as the centerpiece. Highlight of the dinner was a large birthday cake in the shape of a heart.

Leaving For Thailand

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dodd with their 20 months old son, Stephen, are leaving Mill Valley for Thailand between May 15 and 20. He is a civil engineer and is being sent for two years to Thailand for a powerhouse project at Yan Hee Dam on the Ping River. The Dodds are members of Muir League of the Mill Valley Community Church and the Tandems.

No Senior Club Meet Tomorrow

No Senior Club meeting will be held at the regularly scheduled time tomorrow at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall, according to Mrs. Frederick Fellows, president of the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services which sponsors the club.

You can vary a standard two-egg cake by folding half a cup of shredded coconut into the batter.

AAUW Section Plans Meeting In Sausalito

The Recent Grad Section of Marin Branch AAUW will hold its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m., May 9, at the home of Mrs. Richard Hunter in Terra Linda with Mrs. John Colombo as co-hostess.

The meeting will feature a talk by Dr. Robert Burke of the Marin Association for Mental Health. Dr. Burke will discuss the problems of mental health in Marin County.

Anyone interested in hearing the talk may do so by contacting either Mrs. Richard Hunter or Mrs. Harry Glaze of Terra Linda.

Fence For Pixie Place

New welded wire mesh fencing will be installed at Pixie Place, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, May 9, 10 and 11. The playground will be officially closed on these days, although parents may bring their children to play if they are willing to take the risk.

Auxiliary Meets In Adams Home

Luncheon was served following the business meeting. Marin members who assisted Mrs. Adams included Mesdames John Robinson, Albert Domergue, Peter Fisher, Ray Hoffman, H. Bruce Bernhard, James Crittenden, George Fay, James Lill, Nadine Purdy, Kenneth Shaw, Nathan Smith and Vincent Trembly.

The Auxiliary recently gave $20,000 to the Home for a new, modern kitchen. A trip to the Stanford Convalescent Home is planned for June so that members can preview the new kitchen.

Legal Secretaries Plan Installation

The Marin County Legal Secretaries Association will hold its annual installation of officers Wednesday at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of the Marin Municipal Court will administer the oath of office to Mesdames June Tanforan, president; Jan Steuer, governor; Jeanne Olson, vice president; Lola Holt, treasurer; Dorothy Trenam, recording secretary; Miss Margaret Day, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Elsie Caminita, parliamentarian. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m., preceded by cocktails at 6:30.

Dusting Routine

Line Draperies

If draperies are lined they look better from the outside of the house, they hang better, the fabric is protected from the sun, and they look more professional.

Today is Monday, May 8, the 128th day of the year with 237 more in 1961.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn, and Venus.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1541, Hernando de Soto and a company of Spanish explorers discovered the Mississippi River, at a point near the present city of Memphis, Tenn.

In 1884, Harry Truman, 33rd President of the United States, was born on a farm near Lamar, Mo.

In 1958, then Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on a South American good will tour, was stoned and spat upon by leftist students in Lima, Peru.

A thought for today: Harry Truman said: "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."

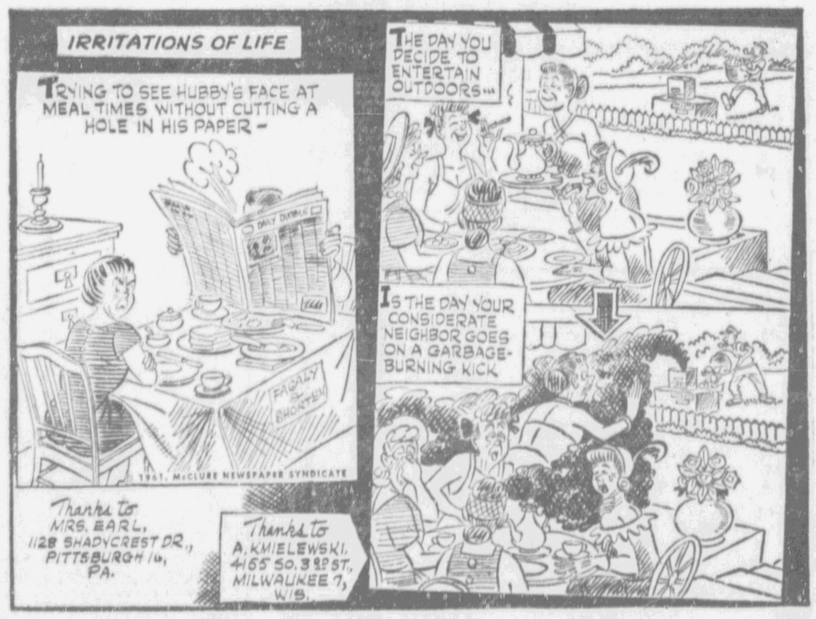
THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW



THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHARD BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counselor

There's Confusion In Statistics On Crime; Here's One Reason Why

I tried to get the low-down on juvenile delinquency trends. I checked the official figures from Washington. I found the trend is down.

The drop started late in 1958 and has continued. So far so good.

Then I went to some national conferences. I heard speeches given by the heads of federal departments which compile the delinquency figures. The politicians told a different story. They said juvenile delinquency is still going up. They beat their breasts, yelled, and rolled their eyes. They demanded new agencies and more experts to help them fight the "ever risin' tide of juvenile delinquency." Confusing, eh?

Take the court reports for 1959: During that year the juvenile court delinquency cases went up only 2 per cent. The population in the 10 to 17-year-old group went up 5 per cent. The net, you see, was a reduction. It was the first drop for this particular index in years.

The figures for 1960 won't come out for a while. I nosed around among some of the folks who now are preparing the reports. They say the 1960 drop will be quite marked. They're sure we're over the hump in juvenile delinquency. Their leaders, as I say, disagree.

Why the confusion? I think I know:

Federal department heads are ambitious. They have big staffs working to reduce juvenile delinquency. They want still bigger staffs. They can't face the responsibility of a reverse trend, and reduced importance. They're human, and they're muddying up the water.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Didn't J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI say that the crime rate was up 12 per cent in our country last year?"

(A) Yes, he did. He was speaking of total crime. Adult crime is rising at a record rate. If I'm right we will have a disastrous adult crime wave in the next 10 years. However we will see a steady drop in our juvenile crime rate.

Beaten With Chain While Group Held Her, Teener Says

A teen-aged girl in Marin City complained Friday night that another girl struck her over the head with a length of chain while a group held her so she could not defend herself.

Nancy Alice Deloney of 419 Drake Avenue, Apartment 9, told sheriff's deputies she and Barbara Jean Brewer of 131 Drake Avenue were headed toward a playing field next to 281 Drake to play baseball Thursday evening.

A girl known only as "Dorothy" objected to their playing and began hitting her with a chain, Nancy said. A crowd gathered, and several held Nancy as Dorothy struck her with the chain, she asserted.

Nancy said she broke free and took refuge in the home of Barbara's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Banks. She said a mob gathered outside, but Mrs. Banks held them off until they dispersed.

New Manager, Contract Meeting In Muir Beach

The Muir Beach Community District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of W. R. Brown to hire a new secretary-manager and to award the contract for the district's new well to be drilled in Frank's Valley.

Secretary-Manager John White said that two bids were received last night on the well, one from N. F. Keyt of Cotati for $1,015 and one from J. G. Grattan of San Francisco for $1,250. A resolution is to be passed Wednesday to authorize spending money for the well and a contract is to be signed.

White, secretary-manager for two and one-half years, is resigning June 1 to take a position as teacher in Southern Humboldt Unified School District.

Condition 'Good'

Three Marinites Hurt In Mishaps

Three Marin residents were hurt in two accidents Saturday.

Mrs. Bernice Raffo, 27, of 13½ Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia, and her 22-month-old daughter, Elizabeth, were injured when the car Mrs. Raffo was driving hit a pole about 10:30 a.m. on Merrydale Road south of San Pedro Road.

Both mother and daughter were taken to Marin General Hospital by United Ambulance, but the extent of their injuries was not known at press time.

Bonnie Cole, 17, of 913 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, fell from a car backing out of the driveway at her home about the same time and injured her left foot, Marin General Hospital reported.

Marin Motor Freight Rates Going Down

Motor freight rates from central and southern Marin points to Arizona and New Mexico will receive a welcome reduction starting May 23, it has been announced by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

Depending upon the commodity and weight of shipment involved, the new rates will save Marin manufacturers and shippers from 50 cents to $1.50 per hundred pounds. The application for the reduction was filed last October by Watson Bros. Transportation Co.

Alto Volunteer Firemen Inc. will install officers at a dinner at 4:30 p.m. May 21 at Alto firehouse No. 1.

At election held last Wednesday, Carl O. Heynen Jr. was reeltcted chief of the volunteer group. Theron H. Halleck was elected chairman. Re-elected were Harry Cordall, secretary; William L. Clark, treasurer, and Leland Storrs, property clerk. John W. Polacchi was elected director.

Overeating Is Complexity As Every Overweight Knows

NEW YORK (UPI) — People are overweight from such complicated causes it's no wonder so many of them can't do anything about it, said a medical scientist, thus giving scientific comfort to the thousands who try and try to stick to diets but always in vain.

There is only one simple fact about people being overweight, continued Dr. Harvey P. Einhorn—they take in more calories than they put out in activity. The instant you start asking why they eat more food than they need, you run into complexities.

They overeat for any one or any combination of four reasons, he said and listed them as hereditary, emotional, environmental and metabolic. "We cannot discount the hereditary factors. In many families obesity seems to be universally prevalent."

"The tense, anxious individual is perfectly obvious, and very often overeats," he said. "The person with financial, marital and environmental problems overeats. However, the one who stands out in any obesity practice is the mildly depressed individual. One wonders which came first—the depression, then the obesity—or the obesity then the depression."

Most of them are women. You wonder (if you're a preceptive doctor) when they tell you, "I do not care about my hair, my clothes, or how I look." They're proud of not being vain, but "vanity, psychiatrically speaking, is a desire to live," Einhorn said.

"Lack of vanity, conversely, is the depressed individual's subconscious desire for not wishing to live in a world which is too complex for him." Now, cosider the foods overweight people eat — and get deeper into the emotional reasons.

Some overeat infant foods, milk and such. These are the "security foods" which made them feel snug in their cradles. Others gorge on the "reward foods" — cakes, ice cream or chocolate. When they were young these foods told them they were good children.

Nor is the environmental factor to be passed over lightly. Years ago the housewife brought a small piece of chocolate or a few cookies into the home only occasinally, but now the small chocolate bar "has metamorphosed into the economical one-half-pound size, and the world of cookies is displayed as a panorama of beauty in all food markets," Einhorn said.

Merely prescribing a restrictive diet is not enough. Actually, he said, that will only "aggravate the emotional problems which lie at the core of these problems of overweight."

There's Confusion In Statistics On Crime; Here's One Reason Why

I tried to get the low-down on juvenile delinquency trends. I checked the official figures from Washington. I found the trend is down.

The drop started late in 1958 and has continued. So far so good.

Then I went to some national conferences. I heard speeches given by the heads of federal departments which compile the delinquency figures. The politicians told a different story. They said juvenile delinquency is still going up. They beat their breasts, yelled, and rolled their eyes. They demanded new agencies and more experts to help them fight the "ever risin' tide of juvenile delinquency." Confusing, eh?

What's the truth? I think the figures are accurate, not the politicos.

Take the court reports for 1959: During that year the juvenile court delinquency cases went up only 2 per cent. The population in the 10 to 17-year-old group went up 5 per cent. The net, you see, was a reduction. It was the first drop for this particular index in years.

The figures for 1960 won't come out for a while. I nosed around among some of the folks who now are preparing the reports. They say the 1960 drop will be quite marked. They're sure we're over the hump in juvenile delinquency. Their leaders, as I say, disagree.

Why the confusion? I think I know:

Federal department heads are ambitious. They have big staffs working to reduce juvenile delinquency. They want still bigger staffs. They can't face the responsibility of a reverse trend, and reduced importance. They're human, and they're muddying up the water.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Didn't J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI say that the crime rate was up 12 per cent in our country last year?"

(A) Yes, he did. He was speaking of total crime. Adult crime is rising at a record rate. If I'm right we will have a disastrous adult crime wave in the next 10 years. However we will see a steady drop in our juvenile crime rate.

Beaten With Chain While Group Held Her, Teener Says

A teen-aged girl in Marin City complained Friday night that another girl struck her over the head with a length of chain while a group held her so she could not defend herself.

Nancy Alice Deloney of 419 Drake Avenue, Apartment 9, told sheriff's deputies she and Barbara Jean Brewer of 131 Drake Avenue were headed toward a playing field next to 281 Drake to play baseball Thursday evening.

A girl known only as "Dorothy" objected to their playing and began hitting her with a chain, Nancy said. A crowd gathered, and several held Nancy as Dorothy struck her with the chain, she asserted.

Nancy said she broke free and took refuge in the home of Barbara's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Banks. She said a mob gathered outside, but Mrs. Banks held them off until they dispersed.

New Manager, Contract Meeting In Muir Beach

The Muir Beach Community District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of W. R. Brown to hire a new secretary-manager and to award the contract for the district's new well to be drilled in Frank's Valley.

Secretary-Manager John White said that two bids were received last night on the well, one from N. F. Keyt of Cotati for $1,015 and one from J. G. Grattan of San Francisco for $1,250. A resolution is to be passed Wednesday to authorize spending money for the well and a contract is to be signed.

White, secretary-manager for two and one-half years, is resigning June 1 to take a position as teacher in Southern Humboldt Unified School District.

Condition 'Good'

Three Marinites Hurt In Mishaps

Three Marin residents were hurt in two accidents Saturday.

Mrs. Bernice Raffo, 27, of 13½ Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia, and her 22-month-old daughter, Elizabeth, were injured when the car Mrs. Raffo was driving hit a pole about 10:30 a.m. on Merrydale Road south of San Pedro Road.

Both mother and daughter were taken to Marin General Hospital by United Ambulance, but the extent of their injuries was not known at press time.

Bonnie Cole, 17, of 913 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, fell from a car backing out of the driveway at her home about the same time and injured her left foot, Marin General Hospital reported.

Marin Motor Freight Rates Going Down

Motor freight rates from central and southern Marin points to Arizona and New Mexico will receive a welcome reduction starting May 23, it has been announced by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

Depending upon the commodity and weight of shipment involved, the new rates will save Marin manufacturers and shippers from 50 cents to $1.50 per hundred pounds. The application for the reduction was filed last October by Watson Bros. Transportation Co.

WA 4-0438 Eves.

Dear Nancy,
I value your opinion, my owner reluctantly is selling me, I'm new, I'm level, I'm electric, I'm really in good shape, and I'm located in Fairfax. What am I? A home or a house? I know I'm a bargain at $22,500.
Wyman
GL 4-9025 Eves.

Dear Cy and Nan,
I've found it! That close in 3 bedroom, 2 bath home in the right area, loaded with charm and equipment. If you can afford high monthly payments, you can buy a $33,000 home for $30,500, with only $3,000 down.
Wyman
GL 4-9029 Eves.

Dear Cy,
I'm plumb crazy over this well built broad beamed Fairhills home — Any other owner would jack the price up and wait for an architect to come along to appreciate it. 2400 sq. ft. of expensive building went into this 3 bedroom, 2 bath plus den and lanai. Asking $36,500.
Wyman
GL 3-2739 Eves.

Dear Nancy,
I called to let everyone know that my dream home is for sale. I've reduced my price $5,000 rather than wait. Where else can a person find a Belvedere view lot with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, easy access and practically new — for only $35,500.

Dear Nan,
If you know of anyone needing an easy, convenient and neat family home where you can live like a million on a moderate income, have them contact me soon. This 4 Bdrm., 2 bath is $17,500.
Wyman
WA 4-0438 Eves.

Dear Nancy,
I value your opinion, my owner reluctantly is selling me, I'm new, I'm level, I'm electric, I'm really in good shape, and I'm located in Fairfax. What am I? A home or a house? I know I'm a bargain at $22,500.
Wyman
GL 4-9025 Eves.

Dear Cy and Nan,
I've found it! That close in 3 bedroom, 2 bath home in the right area, loaded with charm and equipment. If you can afford high monthly payments, you can buy a $33,000 home for $30,500, with only $3,000 down.
Wyman
GL 4-9029 Eves.

Dear Cy,
I'm plumb crazy over this well built broad beamed Fairhills home — Any other owner would jack the price up and wait for an architect to come along to appreciate it. 2400 sq. ft. of expensive building went into this 3 bedroom, 2 bath plus den and lanai. Asking $36,500.
Wyman
GL 3-2739 Eves.

Dear Nancy,
I called to let everyone know that my dream home is for sale. I've reduced my price $5,000 rather than wait. Where else can a person find a Belvedere view lot with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, easy access and practically new — for only $35,500.

Scout Director Named For Camp

David Estes has been named director of the Marin-Sierra Boy Scout summer camp, the Marin Scout Council camping committee announced Saturday.

Estes was assistant camp director last year and for the past five years has been ranger and director of Camp Tamarancho in Fairfax.

Defense Courses Completed By Four

William G. Harrington of San Anselmo and President Ward H. Austin of the College of Marin completed the radiological defense "officers" course. Rev. John H. Toppenberg of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Novato, and Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, San Rafael, completed religious affairs courses in civil and defense mobilization for the clergy.

New KQED Series To Offer Some Suggestions For Summer Vacation

Wondering where you might spend your summer vacation without wandering too far from home?

You might well pick up some suggestions from KQED's new series, "Exploring California," which starts tonight at 7:30.

The series of excursions into California's history and scenic wonders was prepared by KVIE, Sacramento's educational TV station with which KQED frequently exchanges shows. It was produced in cooperation with the State Department of Beaches and Parks whose information officer, Al Calais, serves as host.

Tonight's premiere show takes you into the Mother Lode country. You'll tour the historical state park at Columbia, and you will be shown demonstrations of both old and new gold mining techniques.

AUDIE MURPHY
A Denver detective

ANOTHER NEW series making its debut tonight is the NBC network show, "Whispering Smith," on KRON at 9 o'clock.

It's a combination western and detective series, being built around the Denver police department of the 1870s, held to be "the first in the West to adopt the methods of modern criminology in tracing and apprehending criminals."

Like most such series, it asserts that stories are based upon actual police files.

More often than not in the past similar series have fallen far short in quality of advance ballyhoo. Certainly neither of the co-stars, war hero Audie Murphy and singer Guy Mitchell, has demonstrated any great dramatic ability in the past. But then, there appears to be no limit to the public's appetite for these kind of things.

TWO SPECIALS top tomorrow night's programming, both, unfortunately, scheduled for a 10 o'clock start.

KGO's "Close-Up" report, "Land of the White Ghost," will be part one of a two-part study of Kenya, a land of great beauty and considerable turmoil. Tomorrow night's story will deal with the problems of white settlers who have controlled the country but now find themselves an outnumbered (92 to 1) minority. Next week KGO will carry "Land of the Black Ghost," telling the story of last February's elections in Kenya.

NBC will continue television's current infatuation with the Civil War as a program source with a one-hour drama, "The Renegade," to be seen on KRON. The excellent cast includes Steve Cochran, Richard Ney (remember him as Greer Garson's son in "Mrs. Miniver"?) and Jack Warden. Filmed by MGM, the story tells of two impressed British seamen who jump ship in Baltimore only to become involved in the cross-currents of our Civil War.

ALSO tomorrow night: Mike Wallace narrates "Project: Man In Space" comparing U.S. and Soviet astronaut programs on KPIX at 7 o'clock; Robert Trendler conducts the Chicago Symphony in an all-Gershwin concert including his "An American in Paris" on "Great Music From Chicago" over KTVU at 9 p.m.; an "Open End" panel of newspaper people, including publisher Alicia Patterson (Newsday), editors Barry Bingham (Louisville Courier Journal), J. Russell Wiggins (Washington Post) and Michael Ogden (Providence Journal), writer Douglass Cater (Reporter) and columnist George Sokolsky, discusses the American press at 8:30 on KQED.

Wednesday's "Play of the Week," 8 p.m. on KTVU, stars the talented Negro pair, Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee, in a poignant drama, "Seven Times Monday."

Poets To Read Their Work In Sausalito

Poets Robert Duncan and Philip Whalen will read their poems Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the Tides Bookstore in Sausalito.

Except for brief appearances at a benefit for Kenneth Patchen, it will mark the first time either of the poets has read in the Bay Area in two years.

Duncan, author of "The Opening of the Field," "Selected Poems," and "Letters," recently returned from a series of lectures in universities of the Northwest. Whalen read in small colleges throughout New England in both 1959 and 1960. He is the author of "Like I Say" and "Memoirs of an Interglacial Age."

Both men have had their work included in the anthology, "New American Poetry: 1945-1960."

There will be no admission charge for the reading, but a collection will be taken afterwards.

'Idento-Tags' In Marin Soon

The "Idento-Tags" are being distributed by the Disabled American Veterans to provide "key loss insurance" for motorists. Sets of lost keys bearing Idento-Tags and dropped in a mailbox by the finder will be identified by the DAV lost key department and returned to the owners.

THE SUNDAY SERMON

Pastor Describes Church At Its Best

What is the church at its best?

Pastor John P. Rotto of Christ the Victor Lutheran Church in Fairfax dealt with this question in a sermon to his congregation yesterday.

Pastor Rotto maintained that charges and countercharges of heresy and racial discrimination between church leaders are "hardly the church at its best."

"But even if I should choose some brighter aspects of the church's life," said the Fairfax pastor, "such as its far flung missions; or should cite the fact that our church proposes to establish new churches in the United States at the rate of one every seven days in 1961, and one every three days in 1962, would I be describing the church at its best?

"Others might call attention to the great programs of charities and welfare, or the vast amount of food, clothing and medical assistance that pour from the church's coffers into depressed and needy nations.

"And still others would tell of the great 'force for good' that the churches are in these democratic United States.

"We could go on and on suggesting areas that may be said to illustrate the church at its best," said Pastor Rotto. "And yet, even though these are areas in which certainly a favorable light is shed on the church . . . yet I say the church at its best is rarely seen. I say it for this reason: In all of the things just mentioned we are speaking of the church as a collective whole. We are thinking of the organization of people. We are thinking of the church as 'institution,' and not of the intimate 'person to person' encounter in the name of Christ that constitutes the throbbing inner heartbeat of the church's life.

"I'm convinced," said the pastor, "that if we are to see the church at its best we have to go behind the scenes of its large scale operations . . . to the humid operating room of men like the late Dr. (Tom) Dooley where gentle, skillful hands tell warmly of our God who cares deeply about the well-being of every man . . . to the kitchen or the shop where men and women engage their best friends in conversation . . . to the locker room at school where young people bear witness to their faith . . . to the hospital or sick room or pastors' study . . . to any place two people provide the setting for person to person communication of the 'Good News' that God has shown His love for us 'in that even when we were yet sinners Christ died for us'," said the pastor.

Scout Director Named For Camp

David Estes has been named director of the Marin-Sierra Boy Scout summer camp, the Marin Scout Council camping committee announced Saturday.

Estes was assistant camp director last year and for the past five years has been ranger and director of Camp Tamarancho in Fairfax.

A record attendance is expected at the camp this summer. More than 15 units already have signed up.

Defense Courses Completed By Four

William G. Harrington of San Anselmo and President Ward H. Austin of the College of Marin completed the radiological defense "officers" course. Rev. John H. Toppenberg of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Novato, and Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, San Rafael, completed religious affairs courses in civil and defense mobilization for the clergy.

New KQED Series To Offer Some Suggestions For Summer Vacation

Wondering where you might spend your summer vacation without wandering too far from home?

You might well pick up some suggestions from KQED's new series, "Exploring California," which starts tonight at 7:30.

The series of excursions into California's history and scenic wonders was prepared by KVIE, Sacramento's educational TV station with which KQED frequently exchanges shows. It was produced in cooperation with the State Department of Beaches and Parks whose information officer, Al Calais, serves as host.

Tonight's premiere show takes you into the Mother Lode country. You'll tour the historical state park at Columbia, and you will be shown demonstrations of both old and new gold mining techniques.

ANOTHER NEW series making its debut tonight is the NBC network show, "Whispering Smith," on KRON at 9 o'clock.

It's a combination western and detective series, being built around the Denver police department of the 1870s, held to be "the first in the West to adopt the methods of modern criminology in tracing and apprehending criminals."

Like most such series, it asserts that stories are based upon actual police files.

More often than not in the past similar series have fallen far short in quality of advance ballyhoo. Certainly neither of the co-stars, war hero Audie Murphy and singer Guy Mitchell, has demonstrated any great dramatic ability in the past. But then, there appears to be no limit to the public's appetite for these kind of things.

TWO SPECIALS top tomorrow night's programming, both, unfortunately, scheduled for a 10 o'clock start.

KGO's "Close-Up" report, "Land of the White Ghost," will be part one of a two-part study of Kenya, a land of great beauty and considerable turmoil. Tomorrow night's story will deal with the problems of white settlers who have controlled the country but now find themselves an outnumbered (92 to 1) minority. Next week KGO will carry "Land of the Black Ghost," telling the story of last February's elections in Kenya.

NBC will continue television's current infatuation with the Civil War as a program source with a one-hour drama, "The Renegade," to be seen on KRON. The excellent cast includes Steve Cochran, Richard Ney (remember him as Greer Garson's son in "Mrs. Miniver"?) and Jack Warden. Filmed by MGM, the story tells of two impressed British seamen who jump ship in Baltimore only to become involved in the cross-currents of our Civil War.

ALSO tomorrow night: Mike Wallace narrates "Project: Man In Space" comparing U.S. and Soviet astronaut programs on KPIX at 7 o'clock; Robert Trendler conducts the Chicago Symphony in an all-Gershwin concert including his "An American in Paris" on "Great Music From Chicago" over KTVU at 9 p.m.; an "Open End" panel of newspaper people, including publisher Alicia Patterson (Newsday), editors Barry Bingham (Louisville Courier Journal), J. Russell Wiggins (Washington Post) and Michael Ogden (Providence Journal), writer Douglass Cater (Reporter) and columnist George Sokolsky, discusses the American press at 8:30 on KQED.

Wednesday's "Play of the Week," 8 p.m. on KTVU, stars the talented Negro pair, Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee, in a poignant drama, "Seven Times Monday."

Poets To Read Their Work In Sausalito

Poets Robert Duncan and Philip Whalen will read their poems Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the Tides Bookstore in Sausalito.

Except for brief appearances at a benefit for Kenneth Patchen, it will mark the first time either of the poets has read in the Bay Area in two years.

Duncan, author of "The Opening of the Field," "Selected Poems," and "Letters," recently returned from a series of lectures in universities of the Northwest. Whalen read in small colleges throughout New England in both 1959 and 1960. He is the author of "Like I Say" and "Memoirs of an Interglacial Age."

Both men have had their work included in the anthology, "New American Poetry: 1945-1960."

There will be no admission charge for the reading, but a collection will be taken afterwards.

'Idento-Tags' In Marin Soon

The "Idento-Tags" are being distributed by the Disabled American Veterans to provide "key loss insurance" for motorists. Sets of lost keys bearing Idento-Tags and dropped in a mailbox by the finder will be identified by the DAV lost key department and returned to the owners.

THE SUNDAY SERMON

Pastor Describes Church At Its Best

What is the church at its best?

Pastor John P. Rotto of Christ the Victor Lutheran Church in Fairfax dealt with this question in a sermon to his congregation yesterday.

Pastor Rotto maintained that charges and countercharges of heresy and racial discrimination between church leaders are "hardly the church at its best."

"But even if I should choose some brighter aspects of the church's life," said the Fairfax pastor, "such as its far flung missions; or should cite the fact that our church proposes to establish new churches in the United States at the rate of one every seven days in 1961, and one every three days in 1962, would I be describing the church at its best?

"Others might call attention to the great programs of charities and welfare, or the vast amount of food, clothing and medical assistance that pour from the church's coffers into depressed and needy nations.

"And still others would tell of the great 'force for good' that the churches are in these democratic United States.

"We could go on and on suggesting areas that may be said to illustrate the church at its best," said Pastor Rotto. "And yet, even though these are areas in which certainly a favorable light is shed on the church . . . yet I say the church at its best is rarely seen. I say it for this reason: In all of the things just mentioned we are speaking of the church as a collective whole. We are thinking of the organization of people. We are thinking of the church as 'institution,' and not of the intimate 'person to person' encounter in the name of Christ that constitutes the throbbing inner heartbeat of the church's life.

"I'm convinced," said the pastor, "that if we are to see the church at its best we have to go behind the scenes of its large scale operations . . . to the humid operating room of men like the late Dr. (Tom) Dooley where gentle, skillful hands tell warmly of our God who cares deeply about the well-being of every man . . . to the kitchen or the shop where men and women engage their best friends in conversation . . . to the locker room at school where young people bear witness to their faith . . . to the hospital or sick room or pastors' study . . . to any place two people provide the setting for person to person communication of the 'Good News' that God has shown His love for us 'in that even when we were yet sinners Christ died for us'," said the pastor.

Here's a shocker! Your choice — sparkling tweeds or vibrant solid colors — in wool or Nylon, at one thrifty money-saving price. From the looms of the world's largest carpet mills, Mohawk, comes this fabulous selection of superb-quality floor covering. Shown above is "OAK RIVER" — in lush Cumuloft continuous filament Nylon by Chemstrand. Supremely practical, care-free carpeting: won't fuzz, pill or shed, is non-allergenic, moth-proof, keeps its resilience and beauty, shrugs off stains and spots. (Most stains just whisk up with a damp cloth!) Or, at the same price, we offer Mohawk's rich all wool tweed in a handsome, modern loop texture. Stays springy, resists footprints and scuffing. Choose from sun-bright shades of Spice, Sand, Avocado, Corn Tassel, Mocha, Chestnut, Caramel, Pine, Beach White and others. No reason to put off carpeting even one more week! We'll install completely, wall to wall, covering an average 3 areas (example: 12x15 living room, 9x10 bedroom, 6x3 hallway, 32 yards) over luxurious "Cloudstep" foam padding, all for only $367. Not a penny down, little as $10 monthly gives your home the warmth, quiet, beauty and luxury of wall to wall carpet. You could make no wiser investment in your home.
